Soviets Blast West on Visit, Nehru Says India Is Neutral

CRASH AT VIADUCT—Two men, injured early Saturday when the car shown above crashed into the east approach of the Washington avenue viaduct, were reported "apparently fair" at Kingston Hospital today. Judge Flemming Would Put County Building In 6th Ward Section

Another suggestion as to a suitable location for the proposed new county building came today from former Surrogate Harry H. Flemming, who points to the downtown area as one now ready for such a project.

Former Mayor Conrad J. Heiselman proposed Saturday that selection of a tract in an outlying district would prevent further city traffic congestion. Before this suggestion, Vincent G. Connelly, secretary to Supreme Court Justice Roscoe V. Elsworth, and former Republican city chairman proposed keeping county offices in the uptown area.

JUDGE FLEMMING, who had also served as the city's corporation counsel wrote:

Editor Kingston Daily Freeman:

To the views of our statesmen with reference to parking space in the uptown business district, now under consideration, might be added the following suggestion:

Why not move the county offices to the Sixth Ward of the city where there is ample space, a part of which is now vacant, and the remaining needs can be acquired at a reasonable cost. Such a move would accommodate the lawyers and others far better than the locations heretofore suggested in the extreme limits of the city.

IF THE CITY of Kingston is to benefit by the current upward trend in fair proportion to the county generally, leave a few county office buildings within reasonable access. To remove to remote locations would not benefit anyone.

Leaving them in the city proper would be a distinct advantage to many. Give the city a lift, not a kick. The mayor and common council could help the cause.

Respectfully,
HARRY H. FLEMMING

Report Gun Blasts

New Castle, Ind., Nov. 21 (AP)—Two nonstrikers in the Perfect Circle Corp., piston ring foundry, scene of a riot Oct. 5, reported shotgun blasts were fired into windows of their home early today. Gerald Harvey, a foundry supervisor, said two blasts were fired through a picture window in his home in nearby Sulphur Springs about a half hour after a blast broke a window in Herbert Owens' home near New Castle. No one was hurt in either incident.

Pope Reveals Christ Vision While Ill

Vatican City, Nov. 21 (AP)—The Vatican announced today that Pope Pius XII saw a vision of Jesus Christ during the most critical moments of his grave illness last winter.

The recovery of the desperately ill pontiff began soon after.

THE ANNOUNCEMENT was made by Luciano Casimiri, chief of the Vatican press office, upon authorization of the Papal secretariat of state. The secretariat normally would make such statement only with the personal authorization of the Pope.

Casimiri told newsmen that they could state that "responsible Vatican circles" confirm the report of the vision published last week in Oggi (today,) the largest Italian weekly magazine.

The Vatican press office issued this communique:

"This press service office has been authorized to confirm what has been announced by the weekly illustrated 'Oggi' in its issue of Nov. 24 about the vision of the Holy Father in the course of his illness of December 1954."

The Oggi article said:

"THE SECRET about the episode was kept until now, and only the affectionate indiscretion of one of those knowing it enabled us to learn and tell of the marvelous episode, which undoubtedly will deeply move the Catholic faithful all over the world."

"The Holy Father is perfectly sure he saw Jesus—it was no dream; in that moment (on Dec. 2, 1954) he was fully awake and clear-minded.

"On the following day, when it seemed there were no hopes left, when the world's newspapers already had been circulating with forecasts of a forthcoming grave catastrophe, the ailing Pope started to improve in such a sudden manner that

DYNAMITE SELLER — Lyman Brown, storekeeper in Kremmling, Colo., said he sold 20 sticks of dynamite Oct. 29, three days before a dynamite bomb blew up United Air Lines plane near Longmont, Colo. Brown said the man who bought the dynamite looked like John Gilbert Graham, 23, who is accused of the bombing which killed 44 persons, including his own mother. Brown told the FBI he was "almost certain" Graham, who lived at Kremmling as a boy, was the buyer. Brown is shown holding news pictures of Graham. (AP Wirephoto).

Economic Link Is Discussed

Mining Experts, Steel Men Due

New Delhi, India, Nov. 21 (AP)—Soviet chiefs Nikolai Bulganin and Nikita Khrushchev opened a double-barreled attack on the west in the Indian Parliament today.

They told the more than 700 members, in the presence of Prime Minister Nehru, that Russia was united with India in an "unending battle for peace."

BOTH CRITICIZED the west on grounds it was "attempting to follow policies based on a position of strength."

Soviet Premier Bulganin and first Communist party Secretary Khrushchev are here on a good will visit expected to last more than two weeks. At a state banquet last night, Nehru warned them not to expect that their good will invasion would lead India into the Communist bloc. Bluntly, he said India was "in no camp and no military alliance."

"The foreign policy of the Soviet Union is a policy of peace and friendship between nations," Bulganin told the Parliament members, who frequently applauded. "The people of the Soviet Union feel a deep respect for the Indian government's efforts directed against a policy of creating military aggressive alignments and for the defense of collective peace."

Khrushchev, who followed Bulganin to the microphones, declared, "we cannot close our eyes to the fact that the spirit of Geneva causes indigestion to certain persons. Certain circles in some states are still trying to follow the notorious policy of 'from a position of strength,' a policy of threats by atomic weapons which is a disgrace to modern civilization."

THE PROSPECT of Russian assistance to India's industrial development appeared to be emerging as the leading topic during the Soviet leaders' visit. They brought up the subject for the third day in addresses to a childrens' meeting earlier today. Khrushchev told the children they must help India industrialize rapidly and increase agricultural production quickly, and that in this they could count on the help of Russian youth.

"We old men have got together and now it is for the young boys and girls to continue that friendship for generation after generation," he said.

AT A PRIVATE luncheon, informed sources said Nehru and the two Russians discussed economic cooperation. There has been much said in the past months about Russian economic aid to India but little done about it.

A spokesman for the natural resources ministry told questioners in Parliament today, however, that nine Soviet mining experts are due to arrive soon to help prospect for oil and other minerals. A spokesman for the iron and steel ministry said 300 Soviet technicians are expected in about a year to work on a million ton steel mill India is buying from the Soviet Union.

NEHRU, in his banquet speech last night said the only camp "we should like to be is the camp of peace and good will."

Soviet Premier Nikolai Bulganin followed with a speech at a state banquet in which he said the Soviet Union has "not lost hopes" as a result of the Big Four foreign ministers' deadlock at their Geneva conference.

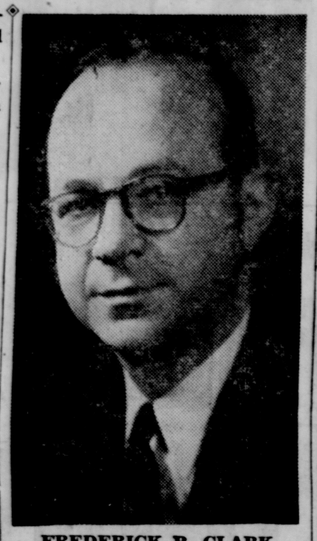

Russia, Bulganin said, is "certain that in the end the four powers will succeed in solving the problems which face them."

The Soviet premier and Communist party boss Nikita S. Khruschev are heading a Rus-

Fund Drive 7-9 Tonight In 4 Wards

Residents of the first, second, third and fourth wards will be called on this evening between 7 and 9 o'clock by members of Local 461, Uniformed Firemen's Association who will open their 1955 drive for contributions to the Muscular Dystrophy fund.

It is estimated more than 200,000 Americans have been stricken, and that fully 135,000 of these are children. The funds which will be given throughout the nation during the 1955 drive will be used to assist those already stricken and for research in an effort to learn how this disease which attacks the muscles, weakening them and making them useless can be controlled.

Fire Chief James M. Brett is chairman with Albert C. Hutton, Sr., as co-chairman of the committee of firemen who will visit homes in the city in a porch light canvass. Fred Blanschan and Clayton Stalter are the local drive chairmen and Philip Maines is treasurer.

Hunter Shot, 2 Hurt in Car Mishaps

An 18-year-old Bronx youth was shot in the thigh with a .22 caliber bullet under mysterious circumstances while hunting and two persons suffered injuries in vehicular accidents during the weekend.

The youth, Richard Oreface, was leaving a wooded section on Route 32 about a mile north of Quarryville at 1:15 p. m. Sunday in the company of five other hunters, all from the Bronx or Long Island areas, when he was struck by the bullet in his left thigh, according to a report in the Ulster County sheriff's office.

HE WAS REPORTED in good condition this morning at Kingston Hospital.

As the group was leaving the woods, coming out on the right side of Route 32 looking toward Palenville, Oreface felt a sudden pain in his thigh, it was reported. A companion, John Simmons, 19, of the Bronx, told Deputies Carl Cline and Charles McCullough that Oreface exclaimed, "Boy this burns. It feels like I was hit with a sledge hammer."

The group drove Oreface to the home of Mrs. Margaret Wallace nearby and was advised by Mrs. Wallace to continue into Saugerties. In Saugerties the youth was treated and then moved to Kingston Hospital.

None of those in the group had a .22 caliber rifle, it was indicated. There were four 12-gauge shotguns and one 20-gauge shotgun.

THOSE HUNTING with Oreface and Simmons were Peter Cutignola, 23, Edward A. Marino, 26, Donald Marino, 21, all of the Bronx, and Joseph Cutignola, 14, of Long Island.

Undersheriff Clayton W. Vredenburgh said the shooting was under investigation.

Mrs. William Mauterstock of 3 Center street, Saugerties, who was injured yesterday when a 1949 sedan, operated by Margaret Mauterstock, 16, of the same address, skidded on icy pavement on Route 212 about three miles east of Woodstock, was reported in "good" condition this morning at Benedictine Hospital.

MRS. MAUTERSTOCK suffered possible breaks of the collar bone and hip, it was reported by Kingston state police.

Trooper William Shurter said the car was traveling west at a low rate of speed about 3:35 p. m. Sunday when the driver applied the brakes on icy pavement, lost control, left the highway on the right side and struck a rock embankment. Mrs. Mauterstock was taken to the hos-

Northern Areas of State Get Eight Inches of Snow

Albany, Nov. 21 (AP)—A new storm swept across the northern half of New York state today, piling up to eight inches of snow in parts of the northeastern tip.

The state counted seven dead from weekend accidents on icy roads.

Highway crews manned plows in a feverish attempt to clear the north country's main routes today.

State police at Malone reported from six to eight inches of snow near Dannemora in Clinton county and around Chateaugay and Brainardsville, Franklin couty.

The troopers said four to five inches had fallen overnight near Plattsburgh and Saranac Lake, and more fell this morning.

Snow flurries were forecast for most of the state, still shoveling out from a general storm Saturday.

Yesterday was the coldest of the season in New York city, with a low of 28.7 early in the morning. It climbed to 37 during the day.

Report Graham Had Electric Job 6 Days

Denver, Nov. 21 (AP)—John Gilbert Graham, accused of murder in a time-bomb explosion aboard a commercial airliner that carried his mother, was reported today to have worked in an electric shop shortly before the fatal crash.

The Rocky Mountain News said in a copyrighted article that Graham worked six days in October at the Denver shop. The paper said he told his employer he would make more money elsewhere but wanted to learn the trade.

THE FBI, meanwhile. was checking out a report of a storekeeper at Kremmling, Colo., 105 miles west of Denver, that he is "pretty sure" a man he sold 20 sticks of dynamite to Oct. 29 was Graham.

Graham, 23, the father of two children, is charged with murder in the death of his mother, Mrs. Daisie King, 54. She and 43 others were killed in the United Air Lines plane crash near Longmont, Colo., Nov. 1.

Graham, who has denied the act, was visited for a second time in jail last night by his wife, Gloria, who told reporters:

"I'LL BELIEVE he's innocent as long as he's not proven guilty.

Mrs. Graham, 22, in response to a reporter's question, said she would remain loyal to Graham, "as every wife should be toward her husband."

The News said Graham's employment at the Ward Electric Co., began Oct. 10 and lasted six days—four days the first week and two the next.

DAMON WARD, who said he hired Graham, was quoted by the newspaper as saying he "thought it peculiar that Graham should want to work in the place."

Ward said he remarked about this to Graham, and Graham replied that electrical equipment in his restaurant occasionally needed repairing.

Graham operated a drive-in restaurant in Denver with his mother.

Ward said Graham asked him about purchasing a timing device.

"I BROUGHT out a catalog and showed him what we had,"

Firms Have Own Plan On Security

New York, Nov. 21 (AP)—The National Assn. of Manufacturers has approved a form of layoff pay which it calls an "individual income security plan."

In announcing its endorsement of the plan yesterday, the management organization made clear its continued opposition to layoff pay plans on the pattern recently worked out by CIO United Auto Workers with the Ford Motor Co., General Motors and other companies.

THE ASSOCIATION said it is confident that its plan would satisfy labor's need for greater security in a manner "entirely consistent with our American economic system."

The NAM-approved plan, which is similar to those now used by two large glass manufacturers, eliminates the pooled fund provided in auto industry contracts. Instead, the NAM recommends an individual fund, like an employer-paid savings account, for each worker, who could draw out money when sick or laid off.

A SECOND difference between the NAM plan and the auto contracts is that the auto companies would pay benefits

Chest $38,000 Short, Reports Set Tonight

With the Kingston area's second annual Red Feather drive still nearly $38,000 short of its goal, plans were going ahead for the drive's final report meeting, to be held tonight at the YMCA building on Broadway at Pine Grove avenue.

Letters have been mailed to some 200 volunteer workers asking them to bring all their cards to the meeting. Coffee and dessert will be served, buffet style, between 7:15 and 8 p. m., during which time reports will be tabulated in all divisions and the results announced at 8 p. m. A brief, surprise program will be presented at that time.

Called "Community Chest Thanks Night," tonight's meeting is designed to express appreciation to those who have served as volunteers during the campaign, and to afford the workers an opportunity to meet informally all those who have been engaged in the endeavor the past two months.

Although this is to be the final general meeting of the current campaign, "this does not mean we are going to stop working" to meet the goal of $100,270, Christopher D. Morris, general chairman, told members of the Chest's board of directors at a meeting last week.

One aim of the final report meeting is to "find out where we stand," so that follow-up measures may be taken in cases where solicitors were unable to contact prospects.

Solicitation by the residential and suburban divisions, which has only just begun in some sections, will continue, he indicated.

After tonight's meeting, workers will report directly to the Community Chest office, and totals will be announced by that office as the occasion demands, rather than daily as has been done the past several weeks.

The second annual campaign to promote traffic safety throughout the nation started today.

The campaign, involving a tally of all traffic deaths during the next three weeks, features S-D Day—Safe Driving Day—on December 1.

But George R. Mustaparta, 30 Wilkie avenue, director of S-D Day here, urging all citizens to walk and drive safely "365 days of the year," said S-D Day "does not mean that we try to drive safely that day alone."

"It should mean to all of us," he said, "that we will not only avoid accidents on that day, but that we will try to avoid them every day."

The success of S-D Day, said Mr. Mustaparta, safety supervisor at Hercules Powder Co., Port Ewen, will be measured by comparing traffic fatalities that day as compared to the 81 on the corresponding day in 1954 and for the comparable three weeks last year when 2,144 lost their lives.

The state counted seven dead from weekend accidents on icy roads.

Highway crews manned plows in a feverish attempt to clear the north country's main routes today.

State police at Malone reported from six to eight inches of snow near Dannemora in Clinton county and around Chateaugay and Brainardsville, Franklin couty.

The troopers said four to five inches had fallen overnight near Plattsburgh and Saranac Lake, and more fell this morning.

Snow flurries were forecast for most of the state, still shoveling out from a general storm Saturday.

Yesterday was the coldest of the season in New York city, with a low of 28.7 early in the morning. It climbed to 37 during the day.

Report Graham Had Electric Job 6 Days

Denver, Nov. 21 (AP)—John Gilbert Graham, accused of murder in a time-bomb explosion aboard a commercial airliner that carried his mother, was reported today to have worked in an electric shop shortly before the fatal crash.

The Rocky Mountain News said in a copyrighted article that Graham worked six days in October at the Denver shop. The paper said he told his employer he would make more money elsewhere but wanted to learn the trade.

THE FBI, meanwhile, was checking out a report of a storekeeper at Kremmling, Colo., 105 miles west of Denver, that he is "pretty sure" a man he sold 20 sticks of dynamite to Oct. 29 was Graham.

Graham, 23, the father of two children, is charged with murder in the death of his mother, Mrs. Daisie King, 54. She and 43 others were killed in the United Air Lines plane crash near Longmont, Colo., Nov. 1.

Graham, who has denied the act, was visited for a second time in jail last night by his wife, Gloria, who told reporters:

"I'LL BELIEVE he's innocent as long as he's not proven guilty.

Mrs. Graham, 22, in response to a reporter's question, said she would remain loyal to Graham, "as every wife should be toward her husband."

The News said Graham's employment at the Ward Electric Co., began Oct. 10 and lasted six days—four days the first week and two the next.

DAMON WARD, who said he hired Graham, was quoted by the newspaper as saying he "thought it peculiar that Graham should want to work in the place."

Ward said he remarked about this to Graham, and Graham replied that electrical equipment in his restaurant occasionally needed repairing.

Graham operated a drive-in restaurant in Denver with his mother.

Ward said Graham asked him about purchasing a timing device.

"I BROUGHT out a catalog and showed him what we had,"

Firms Have Own Plan On Security

New York, Nov. 21 (AP)—The National Assn. of Manufacturers has approved a form of layoff pay which it calls an "individual income security plan."

In announcing its endorsement of the plan yesterday, the management organization made clear its continued opposition to layoff pay plans on the pattern recently worked out by CIO United Auto Workers with the Ford Motor Co., General Motors and other companies.

THE ASSOCIATION said it is confident that its plan would satisfy labor's need for greater security in a manner "entirely consistent with our American economic system."

The NAM-approved plan, which is similar to those now used by two large glass manufacturers, eliminates the pooled fund provided in auto industry contracts. Instead, the NAM recommends an individual fund, like an employer-paid savings account, for each worker, who could draw out money when sick or laid off.

A SECOND difference between the NAM plan and the auto contracts is that the auto companies would pay benefits

Chest $38,000 Short, Reports Set Tonight

With the Kingston area's second annual Red Feather drive still nearly $38,000 short of its goal, plans were going ahead for the drive's final report meeting, to be held tonight at the YMCA building on Broadway at Pine Grove avenue.

Letters have been mailed to some 200 volunteer workers asking them to bring all their cards to the meeting. Coffee and dessert will be served, buffet style, between 7:15 and 8 p. m., during which time reports will be tabulated in all divisions and the results announced at 8 p. m. A brief, surprise program will be presented at that time.

Called "Community Chest Thanks Night," tonight's meeting is designed to express appreciation to those who have served as volunteers during the campaign, and to afford the workers an opportunity to meet informally all those who have been engaged in the endeavor the past two months.

Although this is to be the final general meeting of the current campaign, "this does not mean we are going to stop working" to meet the goal of $100,270, Christopher D. Morris, general chairman, told members of the Chest's board of directors at a meeting last week.

One aim of the final report meeting is to "find out where we stand," so that follow-up measures may be taken in cases where solicitors were unable to contact prospects.

Solicitation by the residential and suburban divisions, which has only just begun in some sections, will continue, he indicated.

After tonight's meeting, workers will report directly to the Community Chest office, and totals will be announced by that office as the occasion demands, rather than daily as has been done the past several weeks.

The second annual campaign to promote traffic safety throughout the nation started today.

The campaign, involving a tally of all traffic deaths during the next three weeks, features S-D Day—Safe Driving Day—on December 1.

But George R. Mustaparta, 30 Wilkie avenue, director of S-D Day here, urging all citizens to walk and drive safely "365 days of the year," said S-D Day "does not mean that we try to drive safely that day alone."

"It should mean to all of us," he said, "that we will not only avoid accidents on that day, but that we will try to avoid them every day."

The success of S-D Day, said Mr. Mustaparta, safety supervisor at Hercules Powder Co., Port Ewen, will be measured by comparing traffic fatalities that day as compared to the 81 on the corresponding day in 1954 and for the comparable three weeks last year when 2,144 lost their lives.

Poor Opposition, Says Curran About Democrats

New York, Nov. 21 (AP)—Manhattan Republican leader Thomas J. Curran says he can't "conceive of anybody easier to lick" than Gov. Averell Harriman as the Democratic presidential candidate.

He also says that if the Republican party cannot win the 1956 presidential election—even without President Eisenhower as its candidate—"it ought to go out of business."

Curran, who spoke yesterday on a television program ("Citizens Union Searchlight," WNBC-TV), said it should be up to Eisenhower alone to decide whether he is to run again.

DISCUSSION of Harriman on the panel program arose during questions about the political moves of Carmine G. DeSapio, Democratic national committeeman, secretary of state in Harriman's administration and leader of Tammany Hall, the Manhattan Democratic organization.

Curran said DeSapio is not "going to get any place with any attempt to win the presidential nomination for Harriman because "west of the Hudson they still think Tammany Hall is no good."

DeSapio is seeking to get the New York delegation to the Democratic National Convention behind Harriman as a "favorite son" candidate.

CURRAN LISTED Adlai E. Stevenson, an avowed contender; Sen. Estes Kefauver of Tennessee and Harriman as the outstanding candidates for the Democratic nomination, and said: "When I look at the opposition, I don't see how we can lose."

Curran, who was secretary of state in the administration of former Gov. Thomas E. Dewey, said Dewey has indicated privately to him as well as publicly that he is "definitely finished with public life" and would not again seek the presidential nomination.

Curran said Dewey probably will be a delegate-at-large to the Republican National Convention, but he will have less influence than in 1952, when he played a major role in Eisenhower's nomination.

Newport Storm Damages Boats

Newport, R. I., Nov. 21 (AP)—Six destroyers were damaged, three launches and a 60-foot barge were cast adrift and a pile-driver was sunk yesterday when snowy winds with gusts up to 50 miles an hour swept across Newport harbor.

Navy officials reported that the hulls of the destroyers F. T. Berry, Harwood, Buckley and Benner were damaged when the wind and waves caused them to bump together while they were tied up at the station's new four million dollar concrete pier which was dedicated last Friday. The floating pile-driver owned by the Raymond Concrete Pile Co., sank at the end of the pier.

Minor damage was reported done to the destroyers Larson and Lloyd Thomas, also tied up to the pier.

The power barge and three motor launches from the destroyers went adrift when their lines parted.

Compromise Formula Devised on Korea Tax

Seoul, Nov. 21 (AP)—A compromise formula for settling U. S. businessmen's bitter three-month tax dispute with South Korea was devised today by U. S. Korean negotiators.

The U. S. embassy said the two sides had "prepared a draft of minutes" to settle the dispute but details would be withheld until it is approved.

It was learned that the compromise was reached at a meeting today among U. S. Charge D'Affairs Carl Strom, Finance Minister Kim Hyun Chul, Vice Finance Minister Young In Sang, a tax lawyer, James Gee Kauffman of Tokyo, and other U. S. and Korean officials.

The formula makes a "substantial reduction" in an unpaid tax bill of hundreds of thousands of dollars which U. S. businessmen have been protesting since last August, an informed source said

About 90 businessmen, half Americans, have refused to pay one million dollars in Korean taxes which they claim were retroactive.

British Inventor Coming Up With Cheaper Autos

London, Nov. 21 (AP)—British inventor Harry Ferguson is reported coming up with something new in the field of motor transport.

Ferguson has announced only that he has completed the "entire range of Ferguson inventions" and is ready to demonstrate them in "actual prototype vehicles ready for production." But J. M. Thompson, managing director of one of the Ferguson organizations, gave this picture:

"IT IS NOT just a car which Mr. Ferguson and his company has produced, but a new principle on which all road vehicles, cars and trucks, will be manufactured in the future."

Ferguson, who collected 9¼ million dollars from the Ford Motor Co. in a 1952 tractor patent infringement suit, has been working on his new project at the village of Stow-on-the-Wold for two years. There have been rumors of a radically low-priced "people's car," or of a new engine that uses less fuel and no gears.

AIDES OF the 71-year-old inventor have described it as a "completely new system of motor transport — something that will revolutionize transportation."

Ferguson's announcement yesterday said "British manufacturers will be given the first opportunity to make them."

Sir Miles Thomas, head of the state-owned British Overseas Airways Corp. (BOAC), has joined the Ferguson organization as a director. He said he has seen Ferguson prototypes in competition with "the best that Germany, Italy, Australia, America or indeed any country has produced" and that he is "convinced that the Ferguson car can outstrip them all, not only on roads, but in sand, mud, snow and ice."

There were indications that the British government is showing a keen interest in the undertaking.

Canal Remains Closed

Berlin, Nov. 21 (AP)—The vital canal that flows through the Iron Curtain to link Berlin and West Germany remained closed today despite a Communist promise that it would be reopened. The Communists closed the canal last Thursday with the explanation that the Rothensee Locks, 60 miles west of Berlin, needed repairs. They promised it would be reopened in two days. Now the Communists say it will not be ready before Wednesday.

Over and Not Out

Roanoke, Va. (AP)—The staff of Roanoke's new television station, WDBJ-TV, completed the station's first telecast from studios in the Mountain Trust Bank Building and then found it was easier to sign off than to sign out. They couldn't get out of the securely locked building and it took about an hour to round up a man with a key.

12 Penn Fatalities

Philadelphia, Nov. 21 (AP)—Twelve persons died as the result of accidents in Pennsylvania over the weekend, 10 on the state's roads. One person died in a fall down a flight of stairs and another was asphyxiated when the flame on a gas heater went out.

81 Are Graduated From FBI School

J. Edgar Hoover, director of the Federal Bureau of Investigation, announced that the members of the 56th Session of the FBI National Academy graduated at exercises held in Washington, D. C., on Friday. The 81 law enforcement officers who attended the 56th Session bring the total of graduates to 3,065 since the Academy's founding in 1935.

THE GRADUATION ceremonies featured an address by Stephen P. Kennedy, commissioner of New York City Police Department. Commissioner Kennedy is himself a graduate of the National Academy, having attended the 26th Session.

The Invocation and Benediction were delivered by Doctor J. Warren Hastings of The National City Christian Church, Washington, D. C., and Assistant Attorney General Warren E. Burger presented the diplomas.

James J. Kelly, special agent in charge of the New York Division of the FBI said that Sergeant Dwight G. Startup of Liberty Police Department was among the graduates.

Poor Opposition, Says Curran About Democrats

New York, Nov. 21 (AP)—Manhattan Republican leader Thomas J. Curran says he can't "conceive of anybody easier to lick" than Gov. Averell Harriman as the Democratic presidential candidate.

He also says that if the Republican party cannot win the 1956 presidential election—even without President Eisenhower as its candidate—"it ought to go out of business."

Curran, who spoke yesterday on a television program ("Citizens Union Searchlight," WNBC-TV), said it should be up to Eisenhower alone to decide whether he is to run again.

DISCUSSION of Harriman on the panel program arose during questions about the political moves of Carmine G. DeSapio, Democratic national committeeman, secretary of state in Harriman's administration and leader of Tammany Hall, the Manhattan Democratic organization.

Curran said DeSapio is not "going to get any place with any attempt to win the presidential nomination for Harriman because "west of the Hudson they still think Tammany Hall is no good."

DeSapio is seeking to get the New York delegation to the Democratic National Convention behind Harriman as a "favorite son" candidate.

CURRAN LISTED Adlai E. Stevenson, an avowed contender; Sen. Estes Kefauver of Tennessee and Harriman as the outstanding candidates for the Democratic nomination, and said: "When I look at the opposition, I don't see how we can lose."

Curran, who was secretary of state in the administration of former Gov. Thomas E. Dewey, said Dewey has indicated privately to him as well as publicly that he is "definitely finished with public life" and would not again seek the presidential nomination.

Curran said Dewey probably will be a delegate-at-large to the Republican National Convention, but he will have less influence than in 1952, when he played a major role in Eisenhower's nomination.

Newport Storm Damages Boats

Newport, R. I., Nov. 21 (AP)—Six destroyers were damaged, three launches and a 60-foot barge were cast adrift and a pile-driver was sunk yesterday when snowy winds with gusts up to 50 miles an hour swept across Newport harbor.

Navy officials reported that the hulls of the destroyers F. T. Berry, Harwood, Buckley and Benner were damaged when the wind and waves caused them to bump together while they were tied up at the station's new four million dollar concrete pier which was dedicated last Friday. The floating pile-driver owned by the Raymond Concrete Pile Co., sank at the end of the pier.

Minor damage was reported done to the destroyers Larson and Lloyd Thomas, also tied up to the pier.

The power barge and three motor launches from the destroyers went adrift when their lines parted.

Compromise Formula Devised on Korea Tax

Seoul, Nov. 21 (AP)—A compromise formula for settling U. S. businessmen's bitter three-month tax dispute with South Korea was devised today by U. S. Korean negotiators.

The U. S. embassy said the two sides had "prepared a draft of minutes" to settle the dispute but details would be withheld until it is approved.

It was learned that the compromise was reached at a meeting today among U. S. Charge D'Affairs Carl Strom, Finance Minister Kim Hyun Chul, Vice Finance Minister Young In Sang, a tax lawyer, James Gee Kauffman of Tokyo, and other U. S. and Korean officials.

The formula makes a "substantial reduction" in an unpaid tax bill of hundreds of thousands of dollars which U. S. businessmen have been protesting since last August, an informed source said

About 90 businessmen, half Americans, have refused to pay one million dollars in Korean taxes which they claim were retroactive.

British Inventor Coming Up With Cheaper Autos

London, Nov. 21 (AP)—British inventor Harry Ferguson is reported coming up with something new in the field of motor transport.

Ferguson has announced only that he has completed the "entire range of Ferguson inventions" and is ready to demonstrate them in "actual prototype vehicles ready for production." But J. M. Thompson, managing director of one of the Ferguson organizations, gave this picture:

"IT IS NOT just a car which Mr. Ferguson and his company has produced, but a new principle on which all road vehicles, cars and trucks, will be manufactured in the future."

Ferguson, who collected 9¼ million dollars from the Ford Motor Co. in a 1952 tractor patent infringement suit, has been working on his new project at the village of Stow-on-the-Wold for two years. There have been rumors of a radically low-priced "people's car," or of a new engine that uses less fuel and no gears.

AIDES OF the 71-year-old inventor have described it as a "completely new system of motor transport — something that will revolutionize transportation."

Ferguson's announcement yesterday said "British manufacturers will be given the first opportunity to make them."

Sir Miles Thomas, head of the state-owned British Overseas Airways Corp. (BOAC), has joined the Ferguson organization as a director. He said he has seen Ferguson prototypes in competition with "the best that Germany, Italy, Australia, America or indeed any country has produced" and that he is "convinced that the Ferguson car can outstrip them all, not only on roads, but in sand, mud, snow and ice."

There were indications that the British government is showing a keen interest in the undertaking.

Canal Remains Closed

Berlin, Nov. 21 (AP)—The vital canal that flows through the Iron Curtain to link Berlin and West Germany remained closed today despite a Communist promise that it would be reopened. The Communists closed the canal last Thursday with the explanation that the Rothensee Locks, 60 miles west of Berlin, needed repairs. They promised it would be reopened in two days. Now the Communists say it will not be ready before Wednesday.

Over and Not Out

Roanoke, Va. (AP)—The staff of Roanoke's new television station, WDBJ-TV, completed the station's first telecast from studios in the Mountain Trust Bank Building and then found it was easier to sign off than to sign out. They couldn't get out of the securely locked building and it took about an hour to round up a man with a key.

12 Penn Fatalities

Philadelphia, Nov. 21 (AP)—Twelve persons died as the result of accidents in Pennsylvania over the weekend, 10 on the state's roads. One person died in a fall down a flight of stairs and another was asphyxiated when the flame on a gas heater went out.

81 Are Graduated From FBI School

J. Edgar Hoover, director of the Federal Bureau of Investigation, announced that the members of the 56th Session of the FBI National Academy graduated at exercises held in Washington, D. C., on Friday. The 81 law enforcement officers who attended the 56th Session bring the total of graduates to 3,065 since the Academy's founding in 1935.

THE GRADUATION ceremonies featured an address by Stephen P. Kennedy, commissioner of New York City Police Department. Commissioner Kennedy is himself a graduate of the National Academy, having attended the 26th Session.

The Invocation and Benediction were delivered by Doctor J. Warren Hastings of The National City Christian Church, Washington, D. C., and Assistant Attorney General Warren E. Burger presented the diplomas.

James J. Kelly, special agent in charge of the New York Division of the FBI said that Sergeant Dwight G. Startup of Liberty Police Department was among the graduates.

About 65 per cent of the families in the United States own automobiles.

S-D DAY OBSERVANCE

The President's Committee for Traffic Safety again is sponsoring a special day dedicated to safe driving—S-D Day. The date is December 1, and the aim is to hold deaths and injuries to the lowest possible level for a 24-hour period.

While perfection probably is too much to expect—even for one day—from a combination of about 72 million drivers and 58 million motor vehicles, no sensible person would argue for a minute that the usual toll cannot be substantially cut by more sensible driving.

It's too bad that such a worthwhile effort must be limited to only one day. The sponsors apparently think so, too, because one slogan urges "Make Every Day S-D Day."

There lies the irony of our traffic accident problem—that it takes a Presidential blessing and a high-powered educational effort to achieve reasonable conduct on the highways for only one day of the year.

Safe driving should be the year-round rule, not the one-day exception. We could "Make Every Day S-D Day."

TRILLION DOLLAR DEBT

If business is booming and revenue high, this calls not for a tax cut, but for reduction of the national debt, says Representative Clarence Cannon, a Missouri Democrat who is on the House Appropriations Committee. He thinks that if we are ever going to reduce the debt, now is the time.

Tempting as lower taxes would be, Cannon has a point. The national debt is perilously close to three hundred billion dollars. We have handled it so far and can do so in the future if all goes well. But what would happen if there were a war? The astronomical figures of our present debt are to be ascribed not to miscellaneous expenditures, but to the cost of World War II. Another war would surely not be less costly than its predecessors and would put our indebtedness to unbelievable heights. For the first time in our history, and perhaps in the history of any nation, a debt could be incurred which would exceed a trillion dollars.

FRIENDSHIP WITH A CAPITAL 'F'

The friendly little scene at the town square in Gettysburg, Pa., was pretty typical of the receptions President Eisenhower has been getting since he walked out of the hospital in Denver a while ago.

A local college band struck up "Happy Birthday" for Mamie, and a girl handed her some roses. Signs by the score welcomed "Ike" to his new home on a farm nearby.

In these greetings to the President and his wife one could see the warmth of real fondness. This isn't adulation for a military hero or for a national leader looking down from a lofty pedestal. "Ike" is a friend, a very comforting friend to have in the presidency—wherever it may be operating.

And he responds like a friend. His public remarks unfailingly voice thanks to all who have remembered him in his illness. At Gettysburg he did not forget to thank the school children who waved or called to him along his route to town.

He never gets mawkish, but his innate decency is always there for all to see.

COUNT LODGE OUT

Henry Cabot Lodge, Jr., our Ambassador to the United Nations, asks that talk about him as a presidential candidate be dropped.

Lodge has had a good deal of political success. He was three times elected to the Senate from Massachusetts, taking time out between terms for war service. In 1952 his arguments are thought responsible for bringing General Eisenhower into the presidential race, and he was his floor manager during the Republican convention.

Lodge has won much commendation for his work in office. His presidential prospects would be brighter but for his surprising defeat for re-election in 1952 when he lost to the present Senator, John F. Kennedy. On this account Lodge may be wise not to take too seriously any mention of himself for higher honors.

'These Days'

By GEORGE SOKOLSKY

ATOMS FOR PEACE

The human race needs to recognize that the hydrogen bomb can destroy the world and all that is on it. There is no practical limit to the size of the bomb except the method of conveying it and that can be solved by engineering.

The data we have been given to date are difficult to read and understand unless one is a specialist. The whole matter is surrounded by security rules which in no manner fool the scientist and engineer who can understand the facts. The layman is caught by such words as "disaster." What is a disaster? Where does it happen and how?

We are given a new word, "fall-out." What does "fall-out" mean? How long does it take? One reads and reads and is profoundly puzzled when he is told that a fall-out might take 10 years. In other words, a hydrogen bomb exploded in 1955 can still be doing damage in 1965. And where is it doing the damage? Anywhere. Literally anywhere or everywhere.

And what is it that does the damage? Apparently the main danger comes from a devilish stuff called radio-active strontium, which is a metallic element of the calcium group, and which mixes freely with calcium, so that it can destroy bones in man and beast. It is such a fine, powdery substance that it does not come down quickly as heavier particles of metals do, but circulates slowly in the atmosphere, falling-out slowly and coming down anywhere. No one can say that a particular target is shot at. The world is the target.

I make no pretentions at knowing chemistry but political manifestations are my business and I must ask whether radio-active strontium is a proper weapon of war? If the United States and Soviet Russia are at war and they fire weapons at each other on a particular day, the immediate effects take place that day and they do not occur in neutral territory. That is not true about radio-active strontium.

Why is it so difficult to get at current knowledge on this subject? How much of it was exchanged at the Atoms of Peace Conference at Geneva? If our scientists and the Russian scientists talked about radio-active strontium, why is it kept secret from the American people? After all, since Klaus Fuchs and the Rosenberg gang stole our secrets at the Manhattan Project, what secrets do we really have? Will it be necessary to read Russian publications to discover what we are doing here in the United States?

There is another question that needs to be asked in all seriousness. Only one man in the United States has the authority to order the use of this horrible weapon. That man is the President of the United States. We have recently witnessed the spectacle of a President of the United States laid low by a coronary thrombosis. He was not in a condition for days to issue an order of this magnitude, nor could his authority constitutionally be transferred to anyone else with sufficient speed to affect any situation involving great immediate danger to millions of lives.

Would it not be expedient for President Eisenhower jointly with the Congress to appoint a special commission of outstanding jurists to study the ramifications of this problem? One can view the matter sentimentally and say that a delightful person as President Eisenhower ought not to be embarrassed by such a question; or one can view it realistically and say that we live in a disturbed era when anything can happen; that men not restrained by conventional morals have been hurled to the summit of states by revolutions and that in their hands are weapons which can destroy the world; that as long as the President, a mortal man, is the only one among 165,000,000 Americans with authority to use the bombs even defensively, we must be protected from the dangers that can beset mortal man.

Such a realistic approach to the problem must recognize heart attacks, diabetic comas and similar disabilities as possible and politically dangerous. It may be said that the Vice President could quickly be co-opted, but Mr. Truman, in his memoirs, admits that at the moment that he succeeded President Roosevelt, he knew nothing about the best kept secret.

Under our system of continuous government, we may be caught in the trap of excessive secrecy.

That Body of Yours

By JAMES W. BARTON, M.D.

MORE ABOUT CROOKED TEETH

Because crooked teeth can be prevented, or at least corrected, I would like to discuss this subject some more today. Teeth cannot be hidden and any deformity of them may lead to much embarrassment and even an inferiority complex later in life. We must keep in mind the importance of the first or baby teeth not only as maintainers of space for the permanent teeth but also as the instruments for the chewing of food during a period of rapid body growth. The loss of even one of them prematurely through decay and extraction lessens chewing efficiency. Every dentist is familiar with the little known appliance known as a space maintainer so if a first or baby tooth in your child's mouth is lost too early, ask your dentist about maintaing the space at the time the tooth is lost.

On the other hand, a baby tooth is often retained too long in the mouth with equally harmful results. Teeth apparently retained too long should not be extracted without first obtaining X-ray evidence of the presence in the gum of its successor or permanent tooth. It is not unusual for a person to have more or less than the normal quota of thirty-two permanent teeth. A complete X-ray examination of the mouth of every child at five years should reveal all the buds of the teeth which will form with the exception of the third molars or wisdom teeth. If extra teeth are forming they will be detected by X-ray and such teeth should be removed before they interfere with the normal development and alignment of the teeth next to them.

Mouth habits are common in young children and while their effects may not be severe in many cases, they are definitely established as factors which contribute to irregularities of the teeth. Sucking is the most common mouth habit and includes the lip, cheek, tongue, thumb, finger, or other objects. As the thumb habit is most easily detected, parents are most concerned over it. The indulgence in the thumb or finger sucking habit after the upper permanent teeth have come in usually causes them to protrude. If this habit can be checked before the age of five years, it should have little or no effect upon the position of the permanent teeth, but a habit begun in early infancy and continued that long is usually difficult to stop. There are several methods commonly used for the correction of this habit including thumb guards tied to the offending thumb and splints wrapped rather firmly around the arm at the elbow. Such local methods are, lately, giving way to a more psychological approach with the idea of affecting the subconscious mind of the child by suggestion. It is helpful for those dealing with a stubborn habit of this kind to consult someone trained in the psychological handling of children.

The ideal treatment for all conditions is prevention — "an ounce of prevention is worth a pound of cure." Safeguard the health and beauty of your child through regular visits to your dentist.

The Job Ahead

Edson's Washington News Notebook

Washington NEA—The housekeeping staff at the White House is delighted to have Mrs. Eisenhower back even if she has to spend most of her time at Gettysburg. She has handled executive mansion domestic employes like Ike has his cabinet, delegating them complete authority to do their jobs as they see fit.

She's free with compliments and always has a gay or kindly remark for the maids, butlers and cooks.

Mamie doesn't bother to run her fingers over the furniture to check dust. She knows they do a good job.

When Guatemala President Castillo Armas visited here recently, for example, Mamie sent word from Denver that the visitor and his wife must get a complete tour of the executive mansion. They did, from upstairs bedrooms to basement swimming pool.

INCIDENTALLY, WORKERS around the White House sacrificed a holiday when Ike came back. They didn't have to show up for work because it was Veterans' Day.

Nearly all of them volunteered to stick around and lend a hand so the President's return would come off smoothly, as it did.

A SMALL TASK FORCE quietly left Washington recently to go to work for Adlai Stevenson.

Others were:

John Brademas, administrative assistant to Rep. Thomas Ashley (D.-Ohio).

HIGHLIGHTS of the Russian Revolution party:

Let's face it. Russian vodka is better than domestic, which has no taste.

Mrs. Zaroubin, wife of the ambassador, is a right nice-looking woman. Has stamina, too. She shook hands until the last guest departed.

Reporter Andy Tully, who just returned from a trip through Russia, had the secret for getting a drink fast at the crowded bar. Instead of asking the Russian bartenders for Scotch, bourbon or Martinis, he shoved his glass at them and demanded "visky."

Amidst giggles and blushes all the embassy wives and secretaries had their picture taken after the party broke up.

Every pinko in town was there, natch.

For the first time in years singer Paul Robeson didn't show.

NIGHT AFTER the Russian reception the American Legion threw a big party for its new National Commander J. Addington Wagner.

Startling thing was how many guests of the Legion had been to the Russians' party, too. Consensus among them was the Legion caviar was better and more plentiful than the Russian.

COCKTAIL CHATTER:

"Mrs. Eisenhower shows the strain of the past weeks."

"If you ask me Mamie looks wonderful."

"Don't use salt. It's the equivalent of drinking three Martinis while you're eating."

IF YOU HAVEN'T SEEN a female by-line from this town in a couple of weeks, here's why: The Woman's National Press Club has published a cookbook called "Who Says We Can't Cook!" with their own recipes and those of famous people. And reporter dames are so busy press-agenting it they haven't had time to ply their legitimate trade.

But who can resist 'em? The following is a powerfully pressured plug:

The book's sensational. No housewife should be without one. Ladies, don't open another can or frozen package until you've read it.

WOW! WHAT a gorgeous number is Baroness Silvercruys, wife of the Belgian ambassador. Silver blonde. Cover girl face. Marilyn Monroe figure. Dresses like a model.

Dulles Geneva Report Seen As Stern Warning to Reds

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Washington, Nov. 20 — The "four-power conference" is, in effect, still going on. The address by United States Secretary of State John Foster Dulles—delivered on his return here Friday after it was approved and authorized by President Eisenhower—is an integral part of the current negotiations. The words spoken now could become the basis for a four-power agreement in a few months.

There is no rule in diplomacy which says negotiations must be carried on only by Foreign Ministers in personal conferences. In fact, a direct appeal to the public opinion of the world, usually characterized as "the propaganda battle," is in some respects more powerful than what is said in face-to-face conversations.

EVERY WORD of the Dulles speech has been examined already in Moscow and will be re-examined many times by the Soviet rulers and their experts. It will be studied to arrive at a decision as to how far the points made are likely to swing favorable opinion, not only on this side of the Iron Curtain but on the other side as well. The Soviet government, therefore, cannot afford to ignore the effective points made by Secretary Dulles.

There is, indeed, some reason to believe that the Soviet government went to the second Geneva conference under a complete misapprehension which now, fortunately, has been dispelled. The Kremlin thought the smiles at the first Geneva conference meant that the West was willing to make peace at any price and that the Western allies would not stick together. In a sense, the second Geneva conference was a testing-out of the solidarity of the Allies and the extent to which their Foreign Ministers would be willing to go to get an agreement on vital issues. The key paragraph in the Dulles address was the following:

"It would have been easy to make some apparent agreements with the Soviet Union—but they would have been without real content. They would have given an illusion of a meeting of minds, where none in fact existed. The three Western powers stood steadfastly against that kind of a performance. In doing so, they showed their confidence in their own strength and in the steadfastness of their own people. Thereby, this conference may have improved the prospects for real agreements in the future."

TRANSLATING THAT language into political realities in the United States, this is how it mght have read:

"Don't be misled, Mr. Molotov. The Democrats in our country are not forcing us into a peace-at-any-price position. Neither Stevenson, nor Harriman, nor Kefauver is going to attack the Republicans and blame them for failure at Geneva. If they did, our public opinion would not support them. Our poltiical parties are united as never before in seeking a real peace in Europe, and you are blocking it. You can't stand on that position very long, so you must come to an agreement with us."

As for Britain and France, Mr. Dulles cannot undertake to speak for them, but their Foreign Ministers also might have said privately the same thing—that the opposition parties in their respective countries aren't going to make political capital out of a so-called "failure" at Geneva.

PERHAPS THE SOVIETS had to try out their tactics at the second Geneva conference before really getting down to business in a third Geneva conference. So it is of transcendent importance that, in the United States, Great Britain and France, interpreters of the first and second Geneva conference do not play into Soviet hands by trying to blame Messrs. Dulles, Macmillan and Pinay for an alleged "failure." In fact, it is a time to congratulate them for their steadfastness and for their ability to perceive the Soviet game and resist it.

There is nothing new in the points made by Mr. Dulles except the significant way in which he restates them immediately after an important conference with the Russians.

The world has been told now that the western governments are willing to sit down face to face with the Soviets and talk things out. But it also has been emphasized that readiness to talk and to smile and to evince a conciliatory spirit does not mean surrender of basic principles or a compromise of any kind with evil things. There is no room for compromise as between slavery and freedom—and that's the issue for the peoples still held by force of arms by our war-time ally even though the war ended more than ten years ago.

HOW MANY months or years can Soviet Russia prolong World War 2 and keep the world from achieving peace? How long will the peoples of the countries affected be likely to remain passive? The fires of revolution are being kindled, and the discontented masses in the satellite states will be the first to fan the flames.

There are men in the councils of the Soviet government who know all this very well and fear it. Travelers returning from Russia, of course, say they didn't see evidences of incipient revolution there. These are never visible, nor are uprisings advertised in advance. But the ferment underneath the surface goes on just the same and suddenly a supposedly loyal army comes to the rescue of the people, as has happened many times in other areas of the globe when tyranny and oppression have run their course.

SOVIET RUSSIA faces a dangerous choice between inaction—which means internal trouble—and making some sort of agreement with the West that will give back to the West German people their East German kinsmen under a single government and bring also some basis for the recovery of their independence by the satellite nations.

It is an inexorable cycle that lies ahead. A third Geneva conference may find the Kremlin more tractable. Certainly the Dulles speech starts a new series of moves designed to convince Moscow that the West will not recede but will insist on a truly peaceful setup in Europe before the much-talked-about "peaceful coexistence" of two different ideological systems can really begin.

Gettysburg Can Take Fame Without Fussing

By DOUGLAS LARSEN
NEA Staff Correspondent

Gettysburg, Pa. (NEA)—Citizens of this historic Civil War battlefield town are professionals at handling visitors.

That's the key to their reaction at having the President of the United States and the functions of the White House thrust upon them.

Practically every one of the more than 7,000 residents is dependent in some degree on the revenue from the 70,000 sightseers who come here annually.

This permits them to take the presence of the 100 or so newsmen and other members of the official White House party in easy stride.

It makes citizens of Gettysburg less starry-eyed about national attention and more candid about some of the inconveniences of this historical event.

"It's a real honor for the city, all right," says Dave Garfinkle who has lived here 25 years and owns the largest photo supply store.

"But it's no cause to turn handsprings in the square and those merchants who think that it's the Alaskan gold-rush are in for a disappointment."

Drive over to see J. Walter Coleman, Superintendent of the Gettysburg National Military Park.

"I've been here 14 years and the President's presence is probably the most important thing that has happened during that time," says Coleman. "But don't forget that we've also been receiving every distinguished visitor to the U. S. from Winston Churchill to Emperor Haile Selassie for some time too. And all the big names in the U.S.A. have also been here."

Official reaction is expressed by the mayor, or burgess, William G. Weaver:

"We're deeply honored and will do everything possible as a community to make him comfortable in order to speed the President's recovery."

He and other town leaders have dropped the word to all citizens that they should give the Eisenhower family maximum privacy. That includes no rubbernecking around the farm or ganging up on them in public places.

Ed Bowers, 83, a native who spends his time chatting with cronies around the square, says "the President being in our town is the most wonderful thing there is."

Paul Reaver, who owns a farm close to that of the President keeps a sharp eye on the road past his house to wave to Ike, when he drives by. The President usually waves back.

But Reaver is not overjoyed about the brand new gravel road connecting Ike's farm with the highway, which was hastily built. It cut his drainage tiles and will probably cause a flood in his front yard after big rains.

"On top of that they graded it wrong and will have to tear it up and do it over again," he complains.

Construction of this road also forced Mrs. Ruth Swope to close her gift shop and hot dog stand temporarily, sending her out of town on a vacation.

She told friends before she left that she wasn't upset because she knew the President's presence would make up for her lost business next spring.

Two persons especially interested in Ike's stay here are Mr. and Mrs. Allen Redding. They've retired and live in town now, but they sold the farm to the Eisenhowers and lived on it most of their lives.

Mamie invited Mrs. Redding back to see the reconstructed house last summer and Mrs. Redding thinks they did a wonderful job of improving the place.

Gettysburg Police Chief Jack Bartlett, a former state policeman who has had this job for eight years, admits Ike's presence adds to the chores of his force. He has six regular policemen and plans to add another. They are aided by five extras who get paid by the hour.

The whole force has put in a lot of overtime recently.

"When the President attends church, or such things as his arrival, and when he drives to the office in the Post Office downtown it means extra men on traffic duty," he explains. "But we don't mind at all."

Jack has no responsibility for policing Ike's farm because it is out of the city in Cumberland township. State police and Secret Service men share that duty.

However, Gettysburg Fire Chief Don McSherry—with his all-volunteer force—does have Ike's farm in his jurisdiction. They've made a couple of dry runs out there in four minutes.

There was talk of having a special alarm line to the fire house but that idea was given up. Instead, the arrangement is to have the farm call the local telephone switchboard and say the words, "fire on Ike's farm."

The operator will quickly alert the members of the volunteer force.

For a town of its size, Don proudly reports, he has the best equipment possible. It includes an iron lung, three pumpers and a big fast ambulance.

"This new responsibility has been a real morale booster for all of us," Don says.

S-D DAY OBSERVANCE

The President's Committee for Traffic Safety again is sponsoring a special day dedicated to safe driving—S-D Day. The date is December 1, and the aim is to hold deaths and injuries to the lowest possible level for a 24-hour period.

While perfection probably is too much to expect—even for one day—from a combination of about 72 million drivers and 58 million motor vehicles, no sensible person would argue for a minute that the usual toll cannot be substantially cut by more sensible driving.

It's too bad that such a worthwhile effort must be limited to only one day. The sponsors apparently think so, too, because one slogan urges "Make Every Day S-D Day."

There lies the irony of our traffic accident problem—that it takes a Presidential blessing and a high-powered educational effort to achieve reasonable conduct on the highways for only one day of the year.

Safe driving should be the year-round rule, not the one-day exception. We could "Make Every Day S-D Day."

TRILLION DOLLAR DEBT

If business is booming and revenue high, this calls not for a tax cut, but for reduction of the national debt, says Representative Clarence Cannon, a Missouri Democrat who is on the House Appropriations Committee. He thinks that if we are ever going to reduce the debt, now is the time.

Tempting as lower taxes would be, Cannon has a point. The national debt is perilously close to three hundred billion dollars. We have handled it so far and can do so in the future if all goes well. But what would happen if there were a war? The astronomical figures of our present debt are to be ascribed not to miscellaneous expenditures, but to the cost of World War II. Another war would surely not be less costly than its predecessors and would put our indebtedness to unbelievable heights. For the first time in our history, and perhaps in the history of any nation, a debt could be incurred which would exceed a trillion dollars.

FRIENDSHIP WITH A CAPITAL 'F'

The friendly little scene at the town square in Gettysburg, Pa., was pretty typical of the receptions President Eisenhower has been getting since he walked out of the hospital in Denver a while ago.

A local college band struck up "Happy Birthday" for Mamie, and a girl handed her some roses. Signs by the score welcomed "Ike" to his new home on a farm nearby.

In these greetings to the President and his wife one could see the warmth of real fondness. This isn't adulation for a military hero or for a national leader looking down from a lofty pedestal. "Ike" is a friend, a very comforting friend to have in the presidency—wherever it may be operating.

And he responds like a friend. His public remarks unfailingly voice thanks to all who have remembered him in his illness. At Gettysburg he did not forget to thank the school children who waved or called to him along his route to town.

He never gets mawkish, but his innate decency is always there for all to see.

COUNT LODGE OUT

Henry Cabot Lodge, Jr., our Ambassador to the United Nations, asks that talk about him as a presidential candidate be dropped.

Lodge has had a good deal of political success. He was three times elected to the Senate from Massachusetts, taking time out between terms for war service. In 1952 his arguments are thought responsible for bringing General Eisenhower into the presidential race, and he was his floor manager during the Republican convention.

Lodge has won much commendation for his work in office. His presidential prospects would be brighter but for his surprising defeat for re-election in 1952 when he lost to the present Senator, John F. Kennedy. On this account Lodge may be wise not to take too seriously any mention of himself for higher honors.

'These Days'

By GEORGE SOKOLSKY

ATOMS FOR PEACE

The human race needs to recognize that the hydrogen bomb can destroy the world and all that is on it. There is no practical limit to the size of the bomb except the method of conveying it and that can be solved by engineering.

The data we have been given to date are difficult to read and understand unless one is a specialist. The whole matter is surrounded by security rules which in no manner fool the scientist and engineer who can understand the facts. The layman is caught by such words as "disaster." What is a disaster? Where does it happen and how?

We are given a new word, "fall-out." What does "fall-out" mean? How long does it take? One reads and reads and is profoundly puzzled when he is told that a fall-out might take 10 years. In other words, a hydrogen bomb exploded in 1955 can still be doing damage in 1965. And where is it doing the damage? Anywhere. Literally anywhere or everywhere.

And what is it that does the damage? Apparently the main danger comes from a devilish stuff called radio-active strontium, which is a metallic element of the calcium group, and which mixes freely with calcium, so that it can destroy bones in man and beast. It is such a fine, powdery substance that it does not come down quickly as heavier particles of metals do, but circulates slowly in the atmosphere, falling-out slowly and coming down anywhere. No one can say that a particular target is shot at. The world is the target.

I make no pretentions at knowing chemistry but political manifestations are my business and I must ask whether radio-active strontium is a proper weapon of war? If the United States and Soviet Russia are at war and they fire weapons at each other on a particular day, the immediate effects take place that day and they do not occur in neutral territory. That is not true about radio-active strontium.

Why is it so difficult to get at current knowledge on this subject? How much of it was exchanged at the Atoms of Peace Conference at Geneva? If our scientists and the Russian scientists talked about radio-active strontium, why is it kept secret from the American people? After all, since Klaus Fuchs and the Rosenberg gang stole our secrets at the Manhattan Project, what secrets do we really have? Will it be necessary to read Russian publications to discover what we are doing here in the United States?

There is another question that needs to be asked in all seriousness. Only one man in the United States has the authority to order the use of this horrible weapon. That man is the President of the United States. We have recently witnessed the spectacle of a President of the United States laid low by a coronary thrombosis. He was not in a condition for days to issue an order of this magnitude, nor could his authority constitutionally be transferred to anyone else with sufficient speed to affect any situation involving great immediate danger to millions of lives.

Would it not be expedient for President Eisenhower jointly with the Congress to appoint a special commission of outstanding jurists to study the ramifications of this problem? One can view the matter sentimentally and say that a delightful person as President Eisenhower ought not to be embarrassed by such a question; or one can view it realistically and say that we live in a disturbed era when anything can happen; that men not restrained by conventional morals have been hurled to the summit of states by revolutions and that in their hands are weapons which can destroy the world; that as long as the President, a mortal man, is the only one among 165,000,000 Americans with authority to use the bombs even defensively, we must be protected from the dangers that can beset mortal man.

Such a realistic approach to the problem must recognize heart attacks, diabetic comas and similar disabilities as possible and politically dangerous. It may be said that the Vice President could quickly be co-opted, but Mr. Truman, in his memoirs, admits that at the moment that he succeeded President Roosevelt, he knew nothing about the best kept secret.

Under our system of continuous government, we may be caught in the trap of excessive secrecy.

That Body of Yours

By JAMES W. BARTON, M.D.

MORE ABOUT CROOKED TEETH

Because crooked teeth can be prevented, or at least corrected, I would like to discuss this subject some more today. Teeth cannot be hidden and any deformity of them may lead to much embarrassment and even an inferiority complex later in life. We must keep in mind the importance of the first or baby teeth not only as maintainers of space for the permanent teeth but also as the instruments for the chewing of food during a period of rapid body growth. The loss of even one of them prematurely through decay and extraction lessens chewing efficiency. Every dentist is familiar with the little known appliance known as a space maintainer so if a first or baby tooth in your child's mouth is lost too early, ask your dentist about maintaing the space at the time the tooth is lost.

On the other hand, a baby tooth is often retained too long in the mouth with equally harmful results. Teeth apparently retained too long should not be extracted without first obtaining X-ray evidence of the presence in the gum of its successor or permanent tooth. It is not unusual for a person to have more or less than the normal quota of thirty-two permanent teeth. A complete X-ray examination of the mouth of every child at five years should reveal all the buds of the teeth which will form with the exception of the third molars or wisdom teeth. If extra teeth are forming they will be detected by X-ray and such teeth should be removed before they interfere with the normal development and alignment of the teeth next to them.

Mouth habits are common in young children and while their effects may not be severe in many cases, they are definitely established as factors which contribute to irregularities of the teeth. Sucking is the most common mouth habit and includes the lip, cheek, tongue, thumb, finger, or other objects. As the thumb habit is most easily detected, parents are most concerned over it. The indulgence in the thumb or finger sucking habit after the upper permanent teeth have come in usually causes them to protrude. If this habit can be checked before the age of five years, it should have little or no effect upon the position of the permanent teeth, but a habit begun in early infancy and continued that long is usually difficult to stop. There are several methods commonly used for the correction of this habit including thumb guards tied to the offending thumb and splints wrapped rather firmly around the arm at the elbow. Such local methods are, lately, giving way to a more psychological approach with the idea of affecting the subconscious mind of the child by suggestion. It is helpful for those dealing with a stubborn habit of this kind to consult someone trained in the psychological handling of children.

The ideal treatment for all conditions is prevention — "an ounce of prevention is worth a pound of cure." Safeguard the health and beauty of your child through regular visits to your dentist.

The Job Ahead

Edson's Washington News Notebook

Washington NEA—The housekeeping staff at the White House is delighted to have Mrs. Eisenhower back even if she has to spend most of her time at Gettysburg. She has handled executive mansion domestic employes like Ike has his cabinet, delegating them complete authority to do their jobs as they see fit.

She's free with compliments and always has a gay or kindly remark for the maids, butlers and cooks.

Mamie doesn't bother to run her fingers over the furniture to check dust. She knows they do a good job.

When Guatemala President Castillo Armas visited here recently, for example, Mamie sent word from Denver that the visitor and his wife must get a complete tour of the executive mansion. They did, from upstairs bedrooms to basement swimming pool.

INCIDENTALLY, WORKERS around the White House sacrificed a holiday when Ike came back. They didn't have to show up for work because it was Veterans' Day.

Nearly all of them volunteered to stick around and lend a hand so the President's return would come off smoothly, as it did.

A SMALL TASK FORCE quietly left Washington recently to go to work for Adlai Stevenson.

Others were:

John Brademas, administrative assistant to Rep. Thomas Ashley (D.-Ohio).

Dulles Geneva Report Seen As Stern Warning to Reds

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Washington, Nov. 20 — The "four-power conference" is, in effect, still going on. PERHAPS THE SOVIETS had to try out their tactics at the second Geneva conference before really getting down to business in a third Geneva conference. So it is of transcendent importance that, in the United States, Great Britain and France, interpreters of the first and second Geneva conference do not play into Soviet hands by trying to blame Messrs. Dulles, Macmillan and Pinay for an alleged "failure." In fact, it is a time to congratulate them for their steadfastness and for their ability to perceive the Soviet game and resist it.

There is nothing new in the points made by Mr. Dulles except the significant way in which he restates them immediately after an important conference with the Russians.

The world has been told now that the western governments are willing to sit down face to face with the Soviets and talk things out. But it also has been emphasized that readiness to talk and to smile and to evince a conciliatory spirit does not mean surrender of basic principles or a compromise of any kind with evil things. There is no room for compromise as between slavery and freedom—and that's the issue for the peoples still held by force of arms by our war-time ally even though the war ended more than ten years ago.

HOW MANY months or years can Soviet Russia prolong World War 2 and keep the world from achieving peace? How long will the peoples of the countries affected be likely to remain passive? The fires of revolution are being kindled, and the discontented masses in the satellite states will be the first to fan the flames.

There are men in the councils of the Soviet government who know all this very well and fear it. Travelers returning from Russia, of course, say they didn't see evidences of incipient revolution there. These are never visible, nor are uprisings advertised in advance. But the ferment underneath the surface goes on just the same and suddenly a supposedly loyal army comes to the rescue of the people, as has happened many times in other areas of the globe when tyranny and oppression have run their course.

SOVIET RUSSIA faces a dangerous choice between inaction—which means internal trouble—and making some sort of agreement with the West that will give back to the West German people their East German kinsmen under a single government and bring also some basis for the recovery of their independence by the satellite nations.

It is an inexorable cycle that lies ahead. A third Geneva conference may find the Kremlin more tractable. Certainly the Dulles speech starts a new series of moves designed to convince Moscow that the West will not recede but will insist on a truly peaceful setup in Europe before the much-talked-about "peaceful coexistence" of two different ideological systems can really begin.

Gettysburg Can Take Fame Without Fussing

By DOUGLAS LARSEN
NEA Staff Correspondent

Gettysburg, Pa. (NEA)—Citizens of this historic Civil War battlefield town are professionals at handling visitors.

That's the key to their reaction at having the President of the United States and the functions of the White House thrust upon them.

Practically every one of the more than 7,000 residents is dependent in some degree on the revenue from the 70,000 sightseers who come here annually.

This permits them to take the presence of the 100 or so newsmen and other members of the official White House party in easy stride.

It makes citizens of Gettysburg less starry-eyed about national attention and more candid about some of the inconveniences of this historical event.

"It's a real honor for the city, all right," says Dave Garfinkle who has lived here 25 years and owns the largest photo supply store.

"But it's no cause to turn handsprings in the square and those merchants who think that it's the Alaskan gold-rush are in for a disappointment."

Drive over to see J. Walter Coleman, Superintendent of the Gettysburg National Military Park.

"I've been here 14 years and the President's presence is probably the most important thing that has happened during that time," says Coleman. "But don't forget that we've also been receiving every distinguished visitor to the U. S. from Winston Churchill to Emperor Haile Selassie for some time too. And all the big names in the U.S.A. have also been here."

Official reaction is expressed by the mayor, or burgess, William G. Weaver:

"We're deeply honored and will do everything possible as a community to make him comfortable in order to speed the President's recovery."

He and other town leaders have dropped the word to all citizens that they should give the Eisenhower family maximum privacy. That includes no rubbernecking around the farm or ganging up on them in public places.

Ed Bowers, 83, a native who spends his time chatting with cronies around the square, says "the President being in our town is the most wonderful thing there is."

Paul Reaver, who owns a farm close to that of the President keeps a sharp eye on the road past his house to wave to Ike, when he drives by. The President usually waves back.

But Reaver is not overjoyed about the brand new gravel road connecting Ike's farm with the highway, which was hastily built. It cut his drainage tiles and will probably cause a flood in his front yard after big rains.

"On top of that they graded it wrong and will have to tear it up and do it over again," he complains.

Construction of this road also forced Mrs. Ruth Swope to close her gift shop and hot dog stand temporarily, sending her out of town on a vacation.

She told friends before she left that she wasn't upset because she knew the President's presence would make up for her lost business next spring.

Two persons especially interested in Ike's stay here are Mr. and Mrs. Allen Redding. They've retired and live in town now, but they sold the farm to the Eisenhowers and lived on it most of their lives.

Mamie invited Mrs. Redding back to see the reconstructed house last summer and Mrs. Redding thinks they did a wonderful job of improving the place.

Gettysburg Police Chief Jack Bartlett, a former state policeman who has had this job for eight years, admits Ike's presence adds to the chores of his force. He has six regular policemen and plans to add another. They are aided by five extras who get paid by the hour.

The whole force has put in a lot of overtime recently.

"When the President attends church, or such things as his arrival, and when he drives to the office in the Post Office downtown it means extra men on traffic duty," he explains. "But we don't mind at all."

Jack has no responsibility for policing Ike's farm because it is out of the city in Cumberland township. State police and Secret Service men share that duty.

However, Gettysburg Fire Chief Don McSherry—with his all-volunteer force—does have Ike's farm in his jurisdiction. They've made a couple of dry runs out there in four minutes.

There was talk of having a special alarm line to the fire house but that idea was given up. Instead, the arrangement is to have the farm call the local telephone switchboard and say the words, "fire on Ike's farm."

The operator will quickly alert the members of the volunteer force.

For a town of its size, Don proudly reports, he has the best equipment possible. It includes an iron lung, three pumpers and a big fast ambulance.

"This new responsibility has been a real morale booster for all of us," Don says.

AMERICA WILL GROW

America's economy has grown prodigiously in 25 years.

Those who view with alarm present common stock prices (which are at 1929 levels) should keep this fact in mind. Such growth, together with the steadily declining purchasing power of the dollar, cause me to doubt that stock prices are too high.

Surely they may sell off. Recision of capital gains' taxes might start a lot of selling. Further restriction of credits could slow down business. Many political and economic events could dampen the confidence underlying prosperity.

But, for all this, I believe the long-term trend is up. If America makes half as much progress in the period from 1955 to 1980 as she did from 1929 to 1954, common stockholders will not regret holding on to their shares.

The prosperity figures for the past quarter-century are sensational. In 1929 personal income in the nation was 85 billions of dollars. Today it is running at the rate of 305 billions. Last year at this time it was around 288 billions.

IN 1929 the gross national product was 104 billions of dollars. Today it is more than 384 billions. What is this gross product? It includes such items as durable goods, non-durable goods, services new construction and government purchases of goods and services.

Corporate profits in 1929 were about $9,500,000,000. Tax liabilities on these were around $1,500,000,000 leaving eight billion of earnings for stockholders. Today, corporate profits are at an all time high, 43 billions of dollars a year, and after paying 22 billions of taxes there still remains 21 billions for reserves and dividends.

All investors who have bought and held through thick-and-thin the best dividend-paying common stocks have protected themselves against constant dollar deterioration. And, in my judgment, this will be true in the decades ahead.

Corporation taxes are too high for the good of the country. But with federal budgets running around 60 billions a year and little likelihood (with the Communist menace ever threatening) that government expenditures will be appreciably reduced in the immediate future, it is doubtful if corporate taxes will be cut much.

While this growth has been taking place, another economic phenomenon has invaded America. It is cheap money. For years on end, all investors will have to face up to low interest rates, risk, corporate earnings and dividends.

Those who are satisfied with three per cent interest on their capital and savings can buy the best bonds in the world—Uncle Sam's.

Those who, in the face of rising costs and expenses, must have higher income will have to buy growth values represented by the corporations of the country that will do an increasing business.

Gross national product today is around 384 billions of dollars a year. In 1965 it will probably be at least 500 billions.

In 1929 corporate profits after taxes were eight billions of dollars. Twenty-five years later, in spite of terrific growth of taxes, they were 31 billions. And any common stockholder of leading American corporations who purchased and held good equities during that period has been thankful this was his form of investment.

I cannot predict what course stock prices will follow from day to day. But I can say with assurance that economic America will grow during the period from 1955 to 1980. And fixed dollars and fixed dollar values will not adequately participate in this growth.

Move for Extradition In Son's Kidnaping

Ithaca, N. Y., Nov. 21 (AP)—The Tompkins county district attorney says he is moving for extradition of a Big Spring, Tex., physician, charged with kidnaping his own son.

Dr. Frank Phillip Sainburg was arrested at Big Spring Friday and released in $2,000 bail.

Prosecutor Frederick B. Bryant said Saturday night that he would seek permission today to reconvene a grand jury to consider evidence against Sainburg accused of taking his son, Phillip, 4, from a nursery school last Monday.

Bryant said he would seek the order in Binghamton from Justice Floyd E. Anderson of State Supreme Court. If it is granted, Bryant said, he will reconvene the jury tomorrow.

HEALTH FOR ALL

FEELING POORLY

Sometimes there's just no other way to describe your condition but to say "I'm feeling poorly." Doctors call it "malaise."

There's no particular symptom. You just feel miserable. Of course, it could be the weather. There are gray days in October, when a steady rain falls on a sodden brown-leaf covered ground. Everything seems to be dying, and there's nothing to look forward to but winter. For the moment, you feel you might as well be dead. Fortunately, weather-caused malaise is usually cured when the sun comes out.

However, malaise can be a symptom of serious trouble. To the doctor, it's valuable to know that his patients feels "poorly." Even before the temperature begins to rise, or there is pain, or cough, malaise can give warning that something is wrong.

Certain diseases are notorious for the way they make patients feel. In hepatitis, a liver disease, the malaise is as obvious as the jaundice. The patient may be seriously depressed. Extensive burns also cause the patient to feel extraordinarily miserable. He's certain he is being neglected and maltreated. But of all diseases causing malaise the worst in proportion to its clinical importance is the common cold, although sea sickness runs it a close second. A cold gives rise to malaise in its purest form; it permeates the whole body. It's beyond anyone's powers of expression to tell just how terrible he feels.

Unlike other symptoms of disease, malaise is an elusive phenomenon that can't be tabulated. It's just a thing that happens to sick people. Some authorities believe it's the result of "toxins" of some kind released in the body by the infection or injury.

Medicine has still a lot to learn about malaise. But one thing is certain. You shouldn't feel miserable. And if you do, you should tell your doctor about it. It may help him make an early diagnosis of serious trouble.

Move for Extradition In Son's Kidnaping

Ithaca, N. Y., Nov. 21 (AP)—The Tompkins county district attorney says he is moving for extradition of a Big Spring, Tex., physician, charged with kidnaping his own son.

Dr. Frank Phillip Sainburg was arrested at Big Spring Friday and released in $2,000 bail.

Prosecutor Frederick B. Bryant said Saturday night that he would seek permission today to reconvene a grand jury to consider evidence against Sainburg accused of taking his son, Phillip, 4, from a nursery school last Monday.

Bryant said he would seek the order in Binghamton from Justice Floyd E. Anderson of State Supreme Court. If it is granted, Bryant said, he will reconvene the jury tomorrow.

HEALTH FOR ALL

FEELING POORLY

Sometimes there's just no other way to describe your condition but to say "I'm feeling poorly." Doctors call it "malaise."

There's no particular symptom. You just feel miserable. Of course, it could be the weather. There are gray days in October, when a steady rain falls on a sodden brown-leaf covered ground. Everything seems to be dying, and there's nothing to look forward to but winter. For the moment, you feel you might as well be dead. Fortunately, weather-caused malaise is usually cured when the sun comes out.

However, malaise can be a symptom of serious trouble. To the doctor, it's valuable to know that his patients feels "poorly." Even before the temperature begins to rise, or there is pain, or cough, malaise can give warning that something is wrong.

Certain diseases are notorious for the way they make patients feel. In hepatitis, a liver disease, the malaise is as obvious as the jaundice. The patient may be seriously depressed. Extensive burns also cause the patient to feel extraordinarily miserable. He's certain he is being neglected and maltreated. But of all diseases causing malaise the worst in proportion to its clinical importance is the common cold, although sea sickness runs it a close second. A cold gives rise to malaise in its purest form; it permeates the whole body. It's beyond anyone's powers of expression to tell just how terrible he feels.

Unlike other symptoms of disease, malaise is an elusive phenomenon that can't be tabulated. It's just a thing that happens to sick people. Some authorities believe it's the result of "toxins" of some kind released in the body by the infection or injury.

Medicine has still a lot to learn about malaise. But one thing is certain. You shouldn't feel miserable. And if you do, you should tell your doctor about it. It may help him make an early diagnosis of serious trouble.

VA Offers Advice To GI Bill Vets

F. William Sheehan, officer in charge, Veterans Administration contact office, 286 Fair street, today listed some helpful reminders for the two-thirds-of-a-million veterans now in training under the Korean GI Bill.

First, Sheehan urged veteran-trainees to make sure they fill out the "Certificates of Training" form their school will give them at the end of each month of training. The completed form must be returned to the school which, in turn, will send it to the VA.

THE LAW REQUIRES that this monthly form be in VA's hands before the agency may mail a veteran his GI allowance check.

Veterans should fill out the forms promptly after each month of training, Sheehan said, since delay on their part may lead to delayed receipt of their checks.

Sheehan's second reminder is for veteran-trainees eligible for higher GI allowance rates because they have dependents. These veterans should submit evidence of dependency as soon as possible.

THE VETERAN WHO wishes to claim an increased allowance because of his wife should send VA a certified copy of the public or church record of his marriage, along with a VA form called "Declaration of Marital Status." Other records will be needed if the veteran, or his wife, have been married before.

To claim the higher rate because of a minor child, the veteran-trainee should submit to VA a certified copy of the public record of birth, or a certified copy of the record of baptism.

FINALLY, SHEEHAN reminded Korean GI veteran-trainees that they should notify the VA immediately if any of the following occur: 1. They change their address; 2. They plan to change their training program; 3. They quit or drop out of training and 4. Their dependency status is changed, through divorce, birth of a child, or death of a dependent.

In notifying VA, veterans should be sure to give their claim number and full name and address. The reason for this, Sheehan explained, is that all veterans' records are filed by claim number. By using this number, a veteran can assure himself of faster service.

Wards Toyland Opens For Holiday Season

The adult world in miniature —that's what toyland looks like. The toys of 1955 have all the glitter and excitement that traditionally means Christmas to every little boy and girl. But they also are designed to teach, through play, mind and body coordination; new concepts of beauty; sportsmanship; science, mechanics, homemaking and other knowledge.

This year there's an exciting new electronic mobile loud speaker truck that really amplifies a voice and has a huge, revolving searchlight; a train engine that snorts realistic, fire-red smoke; a crystal radio kit which really works, that even a 10-year-old can easily put together.

This year, more than ever before, Toyland is full of chidren's dreams-come-true, said V. R. Burns, manager of Montgomery Wards store in Kingston, announcing the opening of Wards Toyland.

Fried Fish Fillets

Good fried fish fillets can be made this way. Beat an egg with a tablespoon of water, a teaspoon of salt and a dash of pepper. Dip two pounds of fish fillets (cut into serving-size portions) in the egg mixture, then into fine cracker crumbs. Fry slowly in a generous amount of melted butter or margarine until golden brown on both sides.

VA Offers Advice To GI Bill Vets

F. William Sheehan, officer in charge, Veterans Administration contact office, 286 Fair street, today listed some helpful reminders for the two-thirds-of-a-million veterans now in training under the Korean GI Bill.

First, Sheehan urged veteran-trainees to make sure they fill out the "Certificates of Training" form their school will give them at the end of each month of training. The completed form must be returned to the school which, in turn, will send it to the VA.

THE LAW REQUIRES that this monthly form be in VA's hands before the agency may mail a veteran his GI allowance check.

Veterans should fill out the forms promptly after each month of training, Sheehan said, since delay on their part may lead to delayed receipt of their checks.

Sheehan's second reminder is for veteran-trainees eligible for higher GI allowance rates because they have dependents. These veterans should submit evidence of dependency as soon as possible.

THE VETERAN WHO wishes to claim an increased allowance because of his wife should send VA a certified copy of the public or church record of his marriage, along with a VA form called "Declaration of Marital Status." Other records will be needed if the veteran, or his wife, have been married before.

To claim the higher rate because of a minor child, the veteran-trainee should submit to VA a certified copy of the public record of birth, or a certified copy of the record of baptism.

FINALLY, SHEEHAN reminded Korean GI veteran-trainees that they should notify the VA immediately if any of the following occur: 1. They change their address; 2. They plan to change their training program; 3. They quit or drop out of training and 4. Their dependency status is changed, through divorce, birth of a child, or death of a dependent.

In notifying VA, veterans should be sure to give their claim number and full name and address. The reason for this, Sheehan explained, is that all veterans' records are filed by claim number. By using this number, a veteran can assure himself of faster service.

Wards Toyland Opens For Holiday Season

The adult world in miniature —that's what toyland looks like. The toys of 1955 have all the glitter and excitement that traditionally means Christmas to every little boy and girl. But they also are designed to teach, through play, mind and body coordination; new concepts of beauty; sportsmanship; science, mechanics, homemaking and other knowledge.

This year there's an exciting new electronic mobile loud speaker truck that really amplifies a voice and has a huge, revolving searchlight; a train engine that snorts realistic, fire-red smoke; a crystal radio kit which really works, that even a 10-year-old can easily put together.

This year, more than ever before, Toyland is full of chidren's dreams-come-true, said V. R. Burns, manager of Montgomery Wards store in Kingston, announcing the opening of Wards Toyland.

Fried Fish Fillets

Good fried fish fillets can be made this way. Beat an egg with a tablespoon of water, a teaspoon of salt and a dash of pepper. Dip two pounds of fish fillets (cut into serving-size portions) in the egg mixture, then into fine cracker crumbs. Fry slowly in a generous amount of melted butter or margarine until golden brown on both sides.

Existence of depressed rural areas, Triggs said, "is basically a problem of underemployment and low per capita farm production."

Triggs said improved employment opportunities in rural areas would help to ease the situation. He said there is need, too, to help train some farm workers for industrial and other jobs.

Farm Bureau Urges More Job Help

Washington, Nov. 21 (AP)—The American Farm Bureau Federation today suggested more productive capacity on the farm and more jobs elsewhere as means of helping low income farmers.

Matt Triggs, assistant legislative director, outlined the bureau's stand in testimony prepared for the Senate-House economic subcommittee on low income families.

Existence of depressed rural areas, Triggs said, "is basically a problem of underemployment and low per capita farm production."

Triggs said improved employment opportunities in rural areas would help to ease the situation. He said there is need, too, to help train some farm workers for industrial and other jobs.

Bride Returns Home

Washington, Pa., Nov. 21 (AP)—A 19-year-old bride of a week, missing since last Wednesday, was home today and police were searching for a former suitor charged by the girl's mother with kidnaping. Attractive Maureen Maga showed up at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph McGuane at nearby McDonald last night. She told her mother she was picked up by Gary Pounds, 22, also of McDonald. Mrs. McGuane swore out a warrant for Pounds, charging he kidnaped the girl. The warrant was issued by Justice of the Peace S. A. Bugay.

Tongay to Surrender

Miami, Fla., Nov. 21 (AP)—Russell Tongay, escaped prisoner who said he would surrender in Los Angeles today, told a newspaperman by telephone that his escape resulted from amnesia.

He was injured in an automobile accident shortly before his escape last Sunday at New Orleans. "I was unconscious for over an hour," Tongay told Jack Houghteling, special events director for the Miami Daily News. "It wasn't until yesterday morning here in Los Angeles that I came out of the amnesia state I was in and realized the full import of what had happened."

2,000 Delinquent On Draft Rolls In New York City

New York, Nov. 21 (AP)—More than 2,000 New York city men are listed as "delinquents" on selective service rolls and are being hunted by the FBI for possible prosecution as draft dodgers.

If enough are caught soon, there might be no need for drafting in New York city in January as now contemplated, says Col. Paul Akst, city director of selective service.

AKST CITED the 2,000-odd figure last night in a recorded talk over the Municipal Radio Station, WNYC. He amplified on his remarks in an interview later.

He explained that in selective service terminology a delinquent is a man who registers but ignores orders to report for physical examination and induction. The induction order follows immediately and automatically on failure to report for the physical.

Akst said a draft dodger is either a delinquent who has been successfully prosecuted for criminal intent or a man who has been successfully prosecuted for never registering.

IN EITHER case, the penalty is up to five years in jail or a fine up to $10,000 or both.

Akst said many of those listed as delinquents may "have a pretty good reason" for not having reported for induction—such as long absence from the city or failure to receive mail.

Unless a delinquent appears to have been criminally evading the draft, he is allowed to escape punishment by immediate enlistment, the director said.

AKST SAID Korean War delinquencies here ran as high as 5,000 or 6,000.

Akst said a dwindling supply of volunteers probably will force his office to resume inductions late in January. He said draft calls would begin with men 26 years old and work down to those 19. The city selective service office has met its quotas entirely from volunteers since last February.

Soldier Held in Taxi Driver's Gunshot Death

Fitchburg, Mass., Nov. 21 (AP)—Army Pvt. Raymond E. Finley, 20, of Albany, N. Y., today was charged with murder in the gunshot death of taxi driver Walter Pender, 42, of Ayer.

Police said robbery of Pender's cab appeared to be the only motive for the killing in Fitchburg yesterday.

State policemen captured Finley in deep woods between the two main highways about an hour after Pender was slain.

Finley was quoted by police as saying: "I guess I should have started shooting. Maybe you would have killed me. I'd be better off dead."

The youth was described by police and army authorities as "intelligent, handsome and expensively dressed in civilian clothes."

They said also that Finley was absent without leave from Ft. Devens since last Wednesday.

Cleaners' Party

Street sanitation is considered so important in the old Georgetown section of Washington, D. C., that street cleaners are given an annual garden party.

JACOBY ON BRIDGE

Generosity Pays Big Dividends

By OSWALD JACOBY
Written for NEA Service

"This is one of the funniest bridge hands I've ever played," my friend Lee Hazen remarked to me the other day. "I let an opponent get away with murder, and he thanked me and called me a fine gentleman. This was enough to make a horse blush, since the truth was that I had actually gained by letting him violate the rules."

West led the ten of hearts, Hazen explained, and East had the ace of hearts out of his hand and practically on the table when he noticed that Hazen had played the small heart from dummy.

"Whose ten is that?" asked East.

"Your partner's," was Hazen's answer.

By this time the ace of hearts was back in East's hand. He looked doubtfully at declarer and asked: "Do I have to play that card?"

"Let's not be technical," Hazen suggested amiably.

East played a small heart with great relief and West held the first trick with his ten.

West next shifted to the four of diamonds, sensibly seeing that a heart continuation could not be good for his side. Hazen won in dummy with the ace of diamonds and led the king of hearts through East. When the ace of hearts appeared, Hazen ruffed and drew trumps, ending in the dummy.

Now the contract was assured, since declarer could discard two clubs on dummy's queen and jack of hearts. He could then give up one diamond and one club, making his game contract.

To this day East has never realized what would have happened if he had been forced by a technical player to take the first trick with the ace of hearts. East would naturally shift to the queen of clubs and the defenders would quickly get three club tricks to defeat the contract.

There was, of course, no reason for Hazen to blush. He gave East his choice of plays on the first trick. If East chose the wrong course and was grateful for it, amusement was the only logical reaction.

New York, Nov. 21 (AP)—More than 2,000 New York city men are listed as "delinquents" on selective service rolls and are being hunted by the FBI for possible prosecution as draft dodgers.

If enough are caught soon, there might be no need for drafting in New York city in January as now contemplated, says Col. Paul Akst, city director of selective service.

AKST CITED the 2,000-odd figure last night in a recorded talk over the Municipal Radio Station, WNYC. He amplified on his remarks in an interview later.

He explained that in selective service terminology a delinquent is a man who registers but ignores orders to report for physical examination and induction. The induction order follows immediately and automatically on failure to report for the physical.

Akst said a draft dodger is either a delinquent who has been successfully prosecuted for criminal intent or a man who has been successfully prosecuted for never registering.

IN EITHER case, the penalty is up to five years in jail or a fine up to $10,000 or both.

Akst said many of those listed as delinquents may "have a pretty good reason" for not having reported for induction—such as long absence from the city or failure to receive mail.

Unless a delinquent appears to have been criminally evading the draft, he is allowed to escape punishment by immediate enlistment, the director said.

AKST SAID Korean War delinquencies here ran as high as 5,000 or 6,000.

Akst said a dwindling supply of volunteers probably will force his office to resume inductions late in January. He said draft calls would begin with men 26 years old and work down to those 19. The city selective service office has met its quotas entirely from volunteers since last February.

Soldier Held in Taxi Driver's Gunshot Death

Fitchburg, Mass., Nov. 21 (AP)—Army Pvt. Raymond E. Finley, 20, of Albany, N. Y., today was charged with murder in the gunshot death of taxi driver Walter Pender, 42, of Ayer.

Police said robbery of Pender's cab appeared to be the only motive for the killing in Fitchburg yesterday.

State policemen captured Finley in deep woods between the two main highways about an hour after Pender was slain.

Finley was quoted by police as saying: "I guess I should have started shooting. Maybe you would have killed me. I'd be better off dead."

The youth was described by police and army authorities as "intelligent, handsome and expensively dressed in civilian clothes."

They said also that Finley was absent without leave from Ft. Devens since last Wednesday.

JACOBY ON BRIDGE

Generosity Pays Big Dividends

By OSWALD JACOBY
Written for NEA Service

"This is one of the funniest bridge hands I've ever played," my friend Lee Hazen remarked to me the other day. "I let an opponent get away with murder, and he thanked me and called me a fine gentleman. This was enough to make a horse blush, since the truth was that I had actually gained by letting him violate the rules."

West led the ten of hearts, Hazen explained, and East had the ace of hearts out of his hand and practically on the table when he noticed that Hazen had played the small heart from dummy.

"Whose ten is that?" asked East.

"Your partner's," was Hazen's answer.

By this time the ace of hearts was back in East's hand. He looked doubtfully at declarer and asked: "Do I have to play that card?"

"Let's not be technical," Hazen suggested amiably.

East played a small heart with great relief and West held the first trick with his ten.

West next shifted to the four of diamonds, sensibly seeing that a heart continuation could not be good for his side. Hazen won in dummy with the ace of diamonds and led the king of hearts through East. When the ace of hearts appeared, Hazen ruffed and drew trumps, ending in the dummy.

Now the contract was assured, since declarer could discard two clubs on dummy's queen and jack of hearts. He could then give up one diamond and one club, making his game contract.

To this day East has never realized what would have happened if he had been forced by a technical player to take the first trick with the ace of hearts. East would naturally shift to the queen of clubs and the defenders would quickly get three club tricks to defeat the contract.

There was, of course, no reason for Hazen to blush. He gave East his choice of plays on the first trick. If East chose the wrong course and was grateful for it. amusement was the only logical reaction.

New York Loses $3 Million on Faulty Meters

New York, Nov. 21 (AP)—Forty million gallons of water are unregistered every day in New York city, with a yearly revenue loss to the city of three million dollars, according to a report released today by Mayor Robert F. Wagner.

The mayor announced receipt of a report from City Administrator Luther Gulick, who recommended a vigorous program of water meter testing.

GULICK reported that 70 per cent of the lost revenue can be reclaimed by testing fewer than 15 per cent of the city's meters. This would bring $2,100,000 additional revenue to the city annually, the report stated.

The testing, the mayor was advised, could be initiated with a minimum estimated expenditure of $67,223 for additional personnel and equipment.

THE REVENUE loss was attributed to "slippage," a term used to describe the passage of water through meters which register it only in part or not at all. Slippage, the report stated, is caused by "excessive wear and use of oversize meters."

The mayor was advised that the larger meters should be tested first.

Consumers, the report concluded, usually cut out water wastage and keep their plumbing fixtures in repair in areas where accurate metering is in force.

Turns Down Fees

Omaha (AP)—Dr. Edwin Lyman has been turning down an estimated $6,000 a year in fees—$42,000 for the seven years he has served as registrar of birth and death certificates in the county. He's entitled to 50 cents for each of the 12,000 such certificates filed annually, but contends: "A public employe should be paid what his official salary is and no more."

Taxi Driver Is Hatchet Victim

Northport, N. Y., Nov. 21 (AP)—Tax driver Edward Cummings, 41, was found dead yesterday from repeated blows of a hatchet. His body was wedged between the seat and dashboard of his cab.

Cummings, known throughout this eastern Long Island area for his helpfulness and kindness to others, was attacked from behind while driving, State Police Sgt. William Reilly said.

The taxi was stopped awkwardly against a snow bank and several other cars nearly hit it before police went to check.

A bloodstained hatchet was found in the cab. Reilly said Cummings had been hit by at least four strong blows of the weapon.

The policeman said "the viciousness of the attack" made it appear to be mixture of revenge and hatred. Cummings' wallet was missing but Reilly said he doubted that robbery was the motive.

In the dead man's pockets was $16, Reilly said the killer might have taken the wallet to mislead investigators, or for something other than money that it contained.

Doing It Yourself

By FRANK TRIPP

For the do-it-yourself fans: From a long-time Mr. Fixit who has had to dig himself out of some pretty tight places. Doing it yourself is profitable and fun if you don't bite off more than you can chew.

It all looks easy on paper and basically it usually is. The joker is that so many energetic people can't pick the right size screw, nor hit a nail with a hammer one out of three whacks; and a wrench in their hands is a lethal weapon.

Even fellows with a shop full of tools and a considerable amount of know-how can be stumped by the experts.

The suspicion persists that the instructions sometimes come from one of two impossible sources; either from a super craftsman who assumes too much skill among novices, or from a copy writer who knows no more about it than those he aims to instruct. They don't tell enough about the make ready.

NEITHER CAN TEACH beginners the proper use of tools. Only experience can do that. The only handyman around the house to whom it is safe to entrust more than a screwdriver is the one who knows what he can't do, and won't try it; particularly around electricity and plumbing.

A wised-up fixer will read instructions, looking for unrevealed hazards that might scuttle him. He'll steer shy of what he might botch beyond all fixing.

Many a time Fanny has chided me for refusing to undertake some touted enterprise that looked duck soup to her. "Sure, just because you're not interested," she'll say.

THE REAL REASON would be that somewhere in the glib talk that she fell for was the catch that nothing but experience can teach a hobbyist how to find.

Every handyman has learned this lesson. As he reads of the ease of accomplishment he looks for the pitfalls. If a joker is there his experience reveals it; something that he knows he cannot do in a workmanlike manner, perhaps not at all. Often it doesn't matter; sometimes it's mighty important.

THE MR. FIXITS are a sort of fraternity. They talk of their shops and their projects as golfers talk of golf and anglers of fishing.

I couldn't guess how many stories I've heard of neighbors who have brought them things to be assembled and trick gadgets that wouldn't work, by people who vowed they had been swindled.

When all that was wrong was big screws in little places, parts ruined by misuse of tools, stripped threads, broken pieces, too much hurry.

HANDYMEN too have been the fall guys; invariably through neglect of some important detail omitted in preparation for the job. Preparation is half of any project. They have learned to look well behind the most complete instructions for something not there.

My prize experience was just such an omission prior to the installation of a rollaway garage door. Though major in a way, it was the easiest looking handyman job that I ever botched.

Everything came by freight, just like the man said, to make an eight-foot-wide disappearing door. I got it preassembled, as was promised, in a couple of hours.

Being too heavy to handle alone, I called in Will Gardner, genuine carpenter and mechanic next door, to help me hang it during his lunch hour.

WELL, Will was there two days, both of us working like beavers, before we got the door working. And it wasn't the door's fault.

Before ordering I had measured the door opening correctly but failed to test it for squareness. I knew better and had I done so I never would have bought the door. The garage had sagged on one side. The opening was out of plumb, the corner angles not square. The door was square and wouldn't work otherwise.

We had to tear out the big door frame, square and rebuild it, and put in a new threshold—which cost more than the bargain door.

That's what I mean about looking behind instructions and being prepared for the job.

Don't be discouraged; every time you'll learn a little. Doing it yourself will make you more self reliant, more contented—and proud.

Three Airmen Killed In Delaware Mishap

Clayton, Del., Nov., 21 (AP)—Three teen-aged airmen from New York state were killed Saturday night when an automobile in which they were riding crashed into a concrete bridge abutment about five miles from here.

They were Charles F. Hasty, 19, of (319 McCarthy parkway) of Oneida, the driver; William R. Osborn, 18, of Kirkville; and Donald K. Corey, 18, of Chenango Forks. All were enlisted members of the 1607th Installation Squadron at Dover Air Force Base near here.

Police said the car landed on its top in a small stream, pinning the men inside, after it hit the abutment.

It's OIL CHANGE TIME! But this year don't just change oil . . .

Change now to Gulf's New Super-Refined GAS-OIL TEAM

No gasoline alone can give you today's finest performance. No oil alone can give you today's finest protection. You need Gulf's GAS-OIL TEAM.

Gulf's New Super-Refined Gas-Oil Team gives you more miles per gallon more miles per quart

Gulfpride Select Oil works clean. Here's why: Most conventional oils are refined only to the stage shown in A. But New Gulfpride Select is further refined by the Alchlor Process—removing up to 15% more of the carbon-formers, in B . . . C contains the new super-refined oil that gives you more miles per quart because it has natural viscosity (body)—contains no artificial thickeners that break down in service.

Fire Does About $5,000 Damage At Jones Dairy

A fire of undetermined origin caused damage estimated at between $4,000 and $5,000 to the Jone Dairy building, Bruyn avenue and Cornell street yesterday afternoon.

Addison D. Jones of 334 Foxhall avenue, proprietor, today said that about $2,000 worth of cartons were destroyed and much damage resulted from smoke and heat.

FIRE CHIEF James M. Brett said the fire apparently started in paper boxes of milk cartons stored in a rear section. The blaze broke through the ceiling and heavily damaged an area between the roof and ceiling of the one-story concrete-block structure.

Engine 1 and Truck 1, Central station and Wicks Engine Company responded to a call at 2:26 p. m., and firemen checked the blaze before it broke through the roof.

JONES SAID today that he was grateful for the prompt, effective action of the firemen in checking the blaze before it spread more seriously through the building.

Chief Brett continued investigation today to learn the source of the fire, but said nothing had turned up to indicate a definite cause.

The dairy has been operating in the building only since last Sept. 17. It formerly operated in a building on Shufeldt street.

One Person Hurt In Rondout Creek Bridge Mishap

One person was injured in one of two mishaps on the Rondout creek bridge during reported slippery conditions Saturday, and a car was badly wrecked in an accident at Main and Green street Sunday.

Manuel B. Lipton, 37 of 38 Linderman avenue suffered knee and arm injuries in one of the bridge mishaps, and the car he drove, owned by Ulster Fuel Oil Heat & Power Co., had to be pried from the bridge structure by a wrecker, police said. He was headed toward the city at about 5:40 p. m. The bridge was reported slippery shortly after that.

OFFICERS Thomas McGrane and Louis Sapp, Jr., reported at 5:10 p. m., that the car of Louise Fischer, 103 Hasbrouck avenue, operated by Arnold Fischer, 20 of the same address, and one owned by Reginal Mensch, 30, of 16 New avenue, Yonkers, collided as both were headed toward the city on the bridge. Both vehicles were damaged, but no injuries were reported.

A report at 4:52 a. m., Sunday, said a car owned by Jessie Matyjasik, of 210 Brinkman street, Buffalo and driven by Joseph James Durron, of Labadie, Mo., headed west on Main street, struck a tree near the Green street intersection. The car was towed from the scene.

WOODSTOCK NEWS

By RICHARD E. THIBAUT, Jr.

Advance Harmony Hall Concerts Announced

Woodstock, Nov. 19—A prospectus of Harmony Hill Concerts has been announced by H. A. Schimmerling, musical director. One concert a week is being planned for next summer's season to be presented either Saturday or Monday night or alternately.

The program will include all types and forms of music ranging from vocal and instrumental solos to larger ensembles including opera.

Emphasis will be put on vocal music as this type, in comparison with instrumental music, was somewhat neglected it was felt in this community.

In similar programming to that of last season, each concert will include at least one contemporary composition preferably a world premier or at least a Woodstock first performance. This, meaning the work of rather unknown, infrequently performed, worthwhile composers.

The committee for the Harmony Hall concerts feels that two cultural missions will thus be fulfilled — the promotion of composers who otherwise were neglected and deserve to be promoted, and the education of the laymen audience in modern music.

In addition the programs will include, either in their regular series, or as addenda lecture recitals on various subjects of the globe, Balkan countries, nations of the Near or Far East. Commentaries including ethnographic, historical and geographical nature will be presented in order to make the performance of the individual national music more comprehensible.

The participation of national dance teams in addition to above mentioned folk music is proposed and ballet groups might be invited for one or two presentations.

Young composers, whose works will be included in the programs will be invited to be present in order to participate in a short symposium concerning their works and as a special attraction great musicians and artists in the field of concert, opera, and radio will be guest artists at some of the recitals.

The programs may be repeated in surrounding communities, especially in cultural enterprises such as colleges and historical societies. Every effort will be made to attract people from other towns and of the country.

Eventually a summer training school for singers might be added to the enterprise, Mr. Schimmerling said.

Lake Hill Sportsmen Plan Special Deer Hunt

Woodstock, Nov. 19—The deer hunt of the Lake Hill Sportsmen's Club has been announced at the club's meeting Thursday night at the Lake Hill Service Station. To date there are 17 in the hunt.

A discussion on the by-laws took place. Any suggestions from active members would be greatly appreciated.

In the near future a mimeographed sheet will be sent to members explaining progress being made by the club on the by-laws.

New members are: Frank Fletcher, Robert Ramier, Herman Hucker, and Anthony Cascolf all of Lake Hill.

The next meeting will be held Thursday, Dec. 15, at 8 p. m.

Serious Fire Averted At Baldwin Residence

Woodstock, Nov. 19 — Mrs. Pauline Baldwin and her 17-year-old daughter, Virginia were credited with averting a serious fire Wednesday morning at the Baldwin home on the Lanesville road at Willow.

Virginia, who was ill at home with a cold along with two other children called to Mrs. Baldwin, who was downstairs, that the house was on fire. Mrs. Baldwin ran outside to the school bus which she operates and grabbed the fire extinguisher. Virginia, meanwhile called the two children to hop out the bedroom window into her arms. She then raced inside and called the fire department.

Her father, Harold L. Baldwin, had come home in the midst of the excitement and with Mrs. Baldwin poured water with pails from the bathroom onto the flames which were practically extinguished by the time Woodstock Fire Company No. 1 arrived on the long ride from the village.

The two youngest, including a baby, of the Baldwin's six children, were downstairs at the time. Reported damage to the house was small but a number of household items were badly burned.

APPEAL TO LAWLESSNESS

The Secondary Boycott is forbidden by federal law. Nevertheless, a labor union paper headlines an article on the strike at the Kohler plumbingware factory at Sheboygan, Wisconsin, with the words: "Don't buy Kohler, boycott Kohler ware."

Mr. Hutton

With reference to the recent strike at the Perfect Circle plants in Indiana, the SOUTH BEND TRIBUNE quotes a U.A.W. international spokesman as saying: "Good people will not buy cars made with bloody parts (piston rings, that is). Union men will not install parts made with bayonets."

Other union leaders say they have twenty-five millions of dollars and will use all of it to "break" the resistance of the Perfect Circle Company to agreeing to the union shop, which would stop anyone from earning his daily bread at their four factories unless he joins their union.

Under present laws, union funds cannot be used to elect candidates for public office. If this were permitted, a union member's money could be used to elect a man or a party that he is against, and to defeat a candidate or party he wants to elect.

But Senator Douglas, of Illinois. says he will work to repeal this law.

This is a preview of what may happen all over this country. Neighbor, does the Department of Justice in Washington intend to enforce the law against Secondary Boycotts, or not?

WOODSTOCK NEWS

By RICHARD E. THIBAUT, Jr.

Advance Harmony Hall Concerts Announced

Woodstock, Nov. 19—A prospectus of Harmony Hill Concerts has been announced by H. A. Schimmerling, musical director. One concert a week is being planned for next summer's season to be presented either Saturday or Monday night or alternately.

The program will include all types and forms of music ranging from vocal and instrumental solos to larger ensembles including opera.

Emphasis will be put on vocal music as this type, in comparison with instrumental music, was somewhat neglected it was felt in this community.

In similar programming to that of last season, each concert will include at least one contemporary composition preferably a world premier or at least a Woodstock first performance. This, meaning the work of rather unknown, infrequently performed, worthwhile composers.

The committee for the Harmony Hall concerts feels that two cultural missions will thus be fulfilled — the promotion of composers who otherwise were neglected and deserve to be promoted, and the education of the laymen audience in modern music.

In addition the programs will include, either in their regular series, or as addenda lecture recitals on various subjects of the globe, Balkan countries, nations of the Near or Far East. Commentaries including ethnographic, historical and geographical nature will be presented in order to make the performance of the individual national music more comprehensible.

The participation of national dance teams in addition to above mentioned folk music is proposed and ballet groups might be invited for one or two presentations.

Young composers, whose works will be included in the programs will be invited to be present in order to participate in a short symposium concerning their works and as a special attraction great musicians and artists in the field of concert, opera, and radio will be guest artists at some of the recitals.

The programs may be repeated in surrounding communities, especially in cultural enterprises such as colleges and historical societies. Every effort will be made to attract people from other towns and of the country.

Eventually a summer training school for singers might be added to the enterprise, Mr. Schimmerling said.

Lake Hill Sportsmen Plan Special Deer Hunt

Woodstock, Nov. 19—The deer hunt of the Lake Hill Sportsmen's Club has been announced at the club's meeting Thursday night at the Lake Hill Service Station. To date there are 17 in the hunt.

A discussion on the by-laws took place. Any suggestions from active members would be greatly appreciated.

In the near future a mimeographed sheet will be sent to members explaining progress being made by the club on the by-laws.

New members are: Frank Fletcher, Robert Ramier, Herman Hucker, and Anthony Cascoll all of Lake Hill.

The next meeting will be held Thursday, Dec. 15, at 8 p. m.

Serious Fire Averted At Baldwin Residence

Woodstock, Nov. 19 — Mrs. Pauline Baldwin and her 17-year-old daughter, Virginia were credited with averting a serious fire Wednesday morning at the Baldwin home on the Lanesville road at Willow.

Virginia, who was ill at home with a cold along with two other children called to Mrs. Baldwin, who was downstairs, that the house was on fire. Mrs. Baldwin ran outside to the school bus which she operates and grabbed the fire extinguisher. Virginia, meanwhile called the two children to hop out the bedroom window into her arms. She then raced inside and called the fire department.

Her father, Harold L. Baldwin, had come home in the midst of the excitement and with Mrs. Baldwin poured water with pails from the bathroom onto the flames which were practically extinguished by the time Woodstock Fire Company No. 1 arrived on the long ride from the village.

The two youngest, including a baby, of the Baldwin's six children, were downstairs at the time. Reported damage to the house was small but a number of household items were badly burned.

Bigando-Bradley Nuptials Are Held

Miss Donna Pauline Bigando, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Domenic L. Bigando of 283 East Union street became the bride of Donald David Bradley, son of Mr. and Mrs. John T. Bradley of 32 Ponckhockie street, Sunday, Nov. 13 at St. Mary's Church at 2:30 p. m. The Rev. Edward Farrelly performed the double ring ceremony.

Theodore Riccobono was at the organ and Martin Kelly sang, Panis Angelicus and the Ave Maria.

The altar was decorated with white chrysanthemums and pompons and the pews were marked with white satin bows.

The bride was given in marriage by her father and she wore a white gown of Peau de Soie. The empire bodice was of shirred tulle over satin, the neckline trimmed with embroidered Alencon lace and hand clipped scallops. The skirt was of princess style and ended in a chapel length train. The long tapered sleeves came to a point on her hands. The three quarter length illusion veil was attached to a pill box of lace outlined with seed pearls and iridescent sequins.

Miss Joan Walsh was the maid of honor and she wore a gown of navy blue chromspun taffeta, fashioned with a fitted bodice, bateau neckline and a bouffant floor length skirt. She wore a headband of velveteen ribbon and horsehair with a rhinestone studded afternoon veil. She carried a nosegay of rust and yellow pompons with rust showers and ribbons.

Bridesmaids were Miss Agnes Gilmartin and Miss June France. They wore gowns of peacock blue taffeta, fashioned with molded bodices and bouffant floor length skirts. They wore matching Spencer jackets with bracelet length sleeves and headbands styled like the honor attendant's. The bridesmaids carried a nosegay of rust and yellow pompons.

Fed Coed Arsenic

Mansfield, Conn., Nov. 21 (AP)—A 26-year-old newspaper reference room clerk, fond of writing poetry, fed arsenic to a pretty University of Connecticut coed and, apparently, to himself, state police charge. William R. Singer, 26, of Wallingford, denied the accusation and said he was wholly unable to explain the presence of poison in his blood and that of Miss Elsie A. L. Treggor of West Hartford. Toxicological tests showed the presence of arsenic, police said.

12 Die in N. J. Mishaps

Newark, N. J., Nov. 21 (AP)—Fires, auto mishaps, train accidents and an explosion took 12 lives in New Jersey during the weekend. Six persons died in four separate fires throughout the state. Two persons were hit and killed by trains and three lost their lives in auto accidents. On man died after an acid tank explosion. Although the season's first measurable snowfall caused a rash of minor accidents on icy roads, only one of the auto deaths was directly caused by the weather conditions.

Ten-Point Finish Shades Youthful Kegler, 33½-33

Old Pro Has 638 In Finishing Kick

Order of Finish

Johnny Ferraro	33½
Jerry Oster	33
Dick Rhea	30½
Whitey Crispell	28

Nobody in bowling circles will be surprised to learn that Johnny Ferraro is going to represent the Hudson valley district in the National Singles tournament in Chicago in December.

But the old pro had to pull out all the stops to edge youthful Jerry Oster by a half point in a dramatic finish in yesterday's final round at the Central Recreation.

An overflow crowd reminiscent of the golden era of bowling watched as Ferraro last in the field of four with 18½ Petersen points, in the first five games exploded a finishing kick of 638 (210-203-225) to capture the coveted title in the first competition of its kind ever staged in the Hudson valley.

FERRARO picked up 10 points in his last two games with Whitey Crispell, while Oster, leading by 2½ points at the end of six sets was able to do no better than seven points in two tests with Dick Rhea of Poughkeepsie.

Oster led Ferraro by a point and a half (30-28½) going into the last two sets. Dick Rhea, Poughkeepsie southpaw, had 26½ and Crispell 25.

While Ferraro was gaining 5 points against Crispell, the free wheeling Oster picked up four against Rhea in the seventh game.

Then came the dramatic eighth game. Ferraro opened with a double, ran into a tap and added a triple. Crispell proved a stubborn foe, tossing a turkey but eventually succumbed 201 to 225.

WITH FERRARO a sure 5-point winner against Crispell, Oster needed a "200" game and a victory for the four points that would insure him the district title. But 181 was the best he could do and he settled for three points and second place.

Oster actually lost the trip to Chicago in the last two games against Rhea, dipping to 182 and 181 after averaging 210 in the first six sets. His 1636 total for the 8-game route led the field as Ferraro shot 1580, Rhea 1568 and Crispell 1524.

The Individual Scoring

EXPERIMENT FOR LEAD ALLOWANCE

BEGINNERS USUALLY ASK EXPERIENCED SHOOTERS, "HOW FAR AHEAD OF A MOVING TARGET DO YOU SHOOT?" WHEN ANSWERS VARY, BUT THE GUNNERS SCORE, IT PROVES THEY USED IDENTICAL LEADS BUT CALLED THEM DIFFERENTLY DUE TO EACH MAN'S JUDGEMENT OF THE LEAD USED.

A BEGINNER SHOULD REMEMBER TO INCREASE LEAD ON DISTANT OR FAST-MOVING TARGETS, AND NOT STOP HIS SWINGING GUN AS HE SHOOTS. THE LATTER IS THE COMMON MISTAKE OF BEGINNERS.

Who Replaces Selvy?

Hawks, Warriors Hold NBA Divisional Leads

St. Louis Hands Knicks 2nd Loss

(By The Associated Press)

The St. Louis Hawks, leading the Western Division of the National Basketball Assn., will need to find a replacement for Frank Selvy if they intend to hold down the top spot.

Selvy, who enters the Army today, led the Hawks to their second victory over the New York Knickerbockers Saturday night but Selvy didn't play last night and the Hawks lost to the Syracuse Nationals 84-80.

New York rebounded to down the lowly Fort Wayne Pistons 119-115 in overtime. In the only other game played last night, the Rochester Royals topped the Minneapolis Lakers 104-96.

THE HAWKS who were paced by Selvy with 21 points and Bob Petit's 33 against the Knicks, were held to under 100 points for the first time this season against the Nats. Chuck Share tallied 20 points for the Hawks while Pettit was held to 16 as Syracuse had five men in double figures. Paul Seymour led the Nationals with 17.

New York's Dick McGuire scored seven points in overtime as the Pistons suffered their sixth loss against one victory this season. The Knicks have a 6-2 mark and are in second place behind the Philadelphia Warriors, who lead the Eastern Division with a 5-1 record.

FORT WAYNE jumped away to a 24-8 lead early in the first period behind the shooting of Larry Foust and held a 57-52 halftime lead. The Knicks finally caught the Pistons in the last period and Jim Baechtold's free throw with 42 seconds sent the game into overtime. Foust led the Pistons with 30 points while Harry Gallatin paced the Knicks with 25.

Led by Rookie Maurice Stokes, who tallied 25 points, Rochester solidified its hold on second place with the victory and dropped Minneapolis into third place. Rochester has a 3-4 record while the Lakers' mark is 2-7.

Connie Simmons contributed 16 points to the Royal attack while Clyde Lovellette led the Lakers with 21.

Santee's Amateur Status Restored

Kansas City, Nov. 21 (AP)—Wes Santee, America's fastest miler, is back in good standing with the AAU.

The Missouri Valley AAU Board of Managers decided yesterday to lift a suspension against the runner. The suspension would have barred him from the 1956 Olympics as well as other AAU-sponsored events.

Another valley AAU body—the Registration Committee—imposed the penalty Oct. 30 on grounds Santee had accepted excessive expense allowances for three California track meets last May.

Santee, maintaining he had never violated amateur athletic standards, appealed to the higher board. The board of managers voted 21-7 to reject the registration committee's decision.

Pony League Reorganizes

Buffalo, Nov. 21 (AP)—The Class-D Pony Baseball League will be doing business at all the old stands next season, says league president Vince McNamarra.

At a board of directors meeting here yesterday, seven of the eight teams in the league paid the required $500 each into the treasury for league operating expenses. The eighth, Bradford, was given until Dec. 4 to pay its fee.

The directors backed a proposed major-minor league agreement restricting television and radio broadcasting of major league ball games in minor league territory.

Under the proposed plan, the major team would have to have permission from the minor club to broadcast its games within a 50-mile radius of the minor club's city.

'Old' Ivy League Era Ends With Penn-Cornell Game

(By The Associated Press)

The "old" era of Ivy League football comes to a close Thursday when Cornell and Penn meet in their annual Thanksgiving Day tussle. Next season, the Ivy schools get down to the business of the presidents' code, playing a round-robin schedule that makes outside competition secondary.

It will be a new look for the Ivy, with each school playing the other seven. This season, for instance, only Princeton, the champion, and Cornell played seven Ivy foes. Penn played only two—wrapping up the last of its suicide schedules against the likes of Army, Notre Dame and Navy.

PRINCETON'S title, first since 1951 for the Tigers, was accomplished with a 6-1 record and a 6-3 decision over Dartmouth Saturday as Yale, the runnerup, took Harvard 21-7.

The championship, 14th outright title in Princeton's Ivy history, came as a "definite surprise" to Coach Charlie Caldwell, who had rated Yale and Cornell ahead of his Tigers in a pre-season estimate.

Yale wound up with a 5-1 league record, beaten only by Princeton, while Cornell needs a victory over 0-1 Penn to gain undisputed right to third place. At the moment, the Big Red and Dartmouth are tied for third with 3-3.

Harvard and Brown, tied for fifth with 2-4 records, Columbia (1-5) and Penn make up the second division.

Ferraro Edges Oster by Half Point in Singles Elimination

SON OF A CHAMPION—C. O. "Bud" Fromer, the Kingston harness horse owner, with yearling colt, Actor Hanover, which he purchased at last week's Harrisburg, Pa., sale. Actor Hanover is from the first crop of foals by Star's Pride, holder of the world's race record for trotters over both mile and half-mile tracks. Ten-Point Finish Shades Youthful Kegler, 33½-33

Old Pro Has 638 In Finishing Kick

Order of Finish

Johnny Ferraro	33½
Jerry Oster	33
Dick Rhea	30½
Whitey Crispell	28

Nobody in bowling circles will be surprised to learn that Johnny Ferraro is going to represent the Hudson valley district in the National Singles tournament in Chicago in December.

But the old pro had to pull out all the stops to edge youthful Jerry Oster by a half point in a dramatic finish in yesterday's final round at the Central Recreation.

An overflow crowd reminiscent of the golden era of bowling watched as Ferraro last in the field of four with 18½ Petersen points, in the first five games exploded a finishing kick of 638 (210-203-225) to capture the coveted title in the first competition of its kind ever staged in the Hudson valley.

FERRARO picked up 10 points in his last two games with Whitey Crispell, while Oster, leading by 2½ points at the end of six sets was able to do no better than seven points in two tests with Dick Rhea of Poughkeepsie.

Oster led Ferraro by a point and a half (30-28½) going into the last two sets. Dick Rhea, Poughkeepsie southpaw, had 26½ and Crispell 25.

While Ferraro was gaining 5 points against Crispell, the free wheeling Oster picked up four against Rhea in the seventh game.

Then came the dramatic eighth game. Ferraro opened with a double, ran into a tap and added a triple. Crispell proved a stubborn foe, tossing a turkey but eventually succumbed 201 to 225.

WITH FERRARO a sure 5-point winner against Crispell, Oster needed a "200" game and a victory for the four points that would insure him the district title. But 181 was the best he could do and he settled for three points and second place.

Oster actually lost the trip to Chicago in the last two games against Rhea, dipping to 182 and 181 after averaging 210 in the first six sets. His 1636 total for the 8-game route led the field as Ferraro shot 1580, Rhea 1568 and Crispell 1524.

Pony League Reorganizes

Buffalo, Nov. 21 (AP)—The Class-D Pony Baseball League will be doing business at all the old stands next season, says league president Vince McNamarra.

At a board of directors meeting here yesterday, seven of the eight teams in the league paid the required $500 each into the treasury for league operating expenses. The eighth, Bradford, was given until Dec. 4 to pay its fee.

The directors backed a proposed major-minor league agreement restricting television and radio broadcasting of major league ball games in minor league territory.

Under the proposed plan, the major team would have to have permission from the minor club to broadcast its games within a 50-mile radius of the minor club's city.

Who Replaces Selvy?

Hawks, Warriors Hold NBA Divisional Leads

St. Louis Hands Knicks 2nd Loss

(By The Associated Press)

The St. Louis Hawks, leading the Western Division of the National Basketball Assn., will need to find a replacement for Frank Selvy if they intend to hold down the top spot.

Selvy, who enters the Army today, led the Hawks to their second victory over the New York Knickerbockers Saturday night but Selvy didn't play last night and the Hawks lost to the Syracuse Nationals 84-80.

New York rebounded to down the lowly Fort Wayne Pistons 119-115 in overtime. In the only other game played last night, the Rochester Royals topped the Minneapolis Lakers 104-96.

THE HAWKS who were paced by Selvy with 21 points and Bob Petit's 33 against the Knicks, were held to under 100 points for the first time this season against the Nats. Chuck Share tallied 20 points for the Hawks while Pettit was held to 16 as Syracuse had five men in double figures. Paul Seymour led the Nationals with 17.

New York's Dick McGuire scored seven points in overtime as the Pistons suffered their sixth loss against one victory this season. The Knicks have a 6-2 mark and are in second place behind the Philadelphia Warriors, who lead the Eastern Division with a 5-1 record.

FORT WAYNE jumped away to a 24-8 lead early in the first period behind the shooting of Larry Foust and held a 57-52 halftime lead. The Knicks finally caught the Pistons in the last period and Jim Baechtold's free throw with 42 seconds sent the game into overtime. Foust led the Pistons with 30 points while Harry Gallatin paced the Knicks with 25.

Led by Rookie Maurice Stokes, who tallied 25 points, Rochester solidified its hold on second place with the victory and dropped Minneapolis into third place. Rochester has a 3-4 record while the Lakers' mark is 2-7.

Connie Simmons contributed 16 points to the Royal attack while Clyde Lovellette led the Lakers with 21.

Santee's Amateur Status Restored

Kansas City, Nov. 21 (AP)—Wes Santee, America's fastest miler, is back in good standing with the AAU.

The Missouri Valley AAU Board of Managers decided yesterday to lift a suspension against the runner. The suspension would have barred him from the 1956 Olympics as well as other AAU-sponsored events.

Another valley AAU body—the Registration Committee—imposed the penalty Oct. 30 on grounds Santee had accepted excessive expense allowances for three California track meets last May.

Santee, maintaining he had never violated amateur athletic standards, appealed to the higher board. The board of managers voted 21-7 to reject the registration committee's decision.

'Old' Ivy League Era Ends With Penn-Cornell Game

(By The Associated Press)

The "old" era of Ivy League football comes to a close Thursday when Cornell and Penn meet in their annual Thanksgiving Day tussle. Next season, the Ivy schools get down to the business of the presidents' code, playing a round-robin schedule that makes outside competition secondary.

It will be a new look for the Ivy, with each school playing the other seven. This season, for instance, only Princeton, the champion, and Cornell played seven Ivy foes. Penn played only two—wrapping up the last of its suicide schedules against the likes of Army, Notre Dame and Navy.

PRINCETON'S title, first since 1951 for the Tigers, was accomplished with a 6-1 record and a 6-3 decision over Dartmouth Saturday as Yale, the runnerup, took Harvard 21-7.

The championship, 14th outright title in Princeton's Ivy history, came as a "definite surprise" to Coach Charlie Caldwell, who had rated Yale and Cornell ahead of his Tigers in a pre-season estimate.

Yale wound up with a 5-1 league record, beaten only by Princeton, while Cornell needs a victory over 0-1 Penn to gain undisputed right to third place. At the moment, the Big Red and Dartmouth are tied for third with 3-3.

Harvard and Brown, tied for fifth with 2-4 records, Columbia (1-5) and Penn make up the second division.

Maroons Not at Full Squad Strength for Newburgh Game

Two Injured Players Are on Doubtful List

Kingston High School will not be at full strength for the Thanksgiving Day game against Newburgh Free Academy, Coach Bill Burke said this morning.

The Maroons and the Goldbacks collide in their traditional duel Thursday morning, 11 o'clock, at Dietz Stadium.

The KHS-NFA game, and the Port Jervis-Middletown duel on the same day, conclude the scholastic football campaign.

There's no championship involved in either battle of DUSO teams. Poughkeepsie took the marbles by beating Kingston a week ago last Saturday.

BURKE SAID today that two regulars whom he had hoped would see full-time duty against Newburgh weren't ready.

Fullback Neil Keyser, hobbled most of the year with a leg injury, will play very little if any. Keyser reinjured himself during Thursday's practice to the extent that he wasn't able to suit up the following day.

Guard Alo Saluste, out of action since before the Middletown game, will play on defense. He is still recovering from a wrist fracture. It had been hoped that Saluste could go both ways, but Burke said that the 1954 All-DUSO selection hadn't regained his speed.

The Kingstonians, therefore, will go with the same offensive lineup that started against Poughkeepsie — Al Long and Marv Engle, ends; Gene Nagele and Lee Kias, tackles; Andy Lee and George Stephano, guards; Pete Blanschan, center; Dick Richards, quarterback; Ronnie Ashdown and either Jim Jackson or Bob Smith, halfbacks; and Larry Johnson, fullback.

ASHDOWN, who suffered a concussion when he collided with Poughkeepsie's monstrous Monty Stickles, is ready to play again. The little guy hasn't broken loose since the NYMA game, but with a dry field and some improved blocking, Ashdown could rip the game wide open.

Newburgh is reportedly in fine physical fettle. The Goldbacks will bank most of their victory hopes on the shoulders of halfback Charles "Zeke" McCurry.

Newburgh has a sizeable edge in the long series, winning 23 times. Kingston has triumphed on 14 occasions, with three games ending in deadlocks. Since Burke took over the Kingston coaching job in 1946, however, the Maroons have won 10, lost three and tied one against Newburgh.

Off Middletown's showing in the past two games, the Middle-Port duel should be a good one.

PORT JERVIS tripped Kingston by a single point, while the Middies suffered a 21-0 trouncing at the Maroons' hands. But the Middletown eleven gave Poughkeepsie a good battle and then overwhelmed Newburgh, a team which Port beat by a single touchdown.

Port will unleash a quintet of fine backs against the Middletown squad — Vince Pagano, Butch Ross, Dick Pencek and the speedy Malzahna, Clint and Jim.

Middletown is relying on its slender tailback, the sparkling Sherk Myers, and on its pass-snatching end, Ted Brown.

The Middies have a big margin in the series, which dates from 1910. Middletown has won 36, Port Jervis 19, with five ties.

KHS-NFA Tilt First to Have Kickoff at 11

G. Warren Kias, Kingston High School athletic director, emphasized today that the KHS-Newburgh game would begin at 11 o'clock Thursday morning.

This will be the first time that a Thanksgiving Day game at Kingston has been played in the morning.

Fans are asked to arrive at Dietz Stadium early to prevent congestion near kickoff time.

Why We Say--

FROM WOOD: A piece of wood turns rough when the carpenter rubs it "against the grain" instead of planning it according to its natural line to make it smooth. People likewise become bristly when they are treated in a manner that goes against their inclination. When that happens, we say that something has gone "against the grain."

Lausse, Martinez Spotted in Top Bouts of Week

(By The Associated Press)

Two of the longest winning streaks in pro boxing will go on the line this week when Eduardo Lausse of Argentina and Vince Martinez of Paterson, N. J., go to work in Friday and Wednesday bouts.

Lausse, unbeaten since Sept. 13, 1952, with 29 straight victories, meets Gene (Cyclone) Fullmer of West Jordan, Utah, in the regular Friday night show (NBC-radio-TV) from Madison Square Garden.

The scowling left hooker is starting a determined drive toward the middleweight title held by Bobo Olson. Lausse ranks fourth among the contenders while the 23-year-old Fullmer is No. 9 in the class. In his last start, Lausse evened an old score by whipping Kid Gavilan, the last man to beat him.

MARTINEZ, unbeaten in 17 fights, boxes Chris Christensen of Denmark in the Wednesday show (ABC-radio-TV) from the St. Louis Arena. It's Martinez' second start since he signed a new five-year contract with Manager Bill Daly. Martinez, 26, is No. 4 among the welters.

Neither Carmine Fiore nor Rinzo Nocero is a rated welter but the two Brooklyn sluggers promise to come out swinging tonight at St. Nicholas Arena in New York (DuMont-TV). Fiore can knock out a man with one solid left hook, although he hasn't fought since he was stopped by Vince Martinez, Oct. 29, 1954.

Fiore, 26, has fought 70 times as a pro for a 47-18-5 record. Nocero, 24, has a 26-3 record for 29 starts. He was knocked out only once, by Rafael Merentino of Argentina last February.

The Associated Press

Twenty years ago Alabama sent Don Hutson up to the National Football League and he proceeded to make life miserable for opposing pass defenders for the next decade.

Now the Cotton State has contributed Harlon Hill to the NFL, and the Chicago Bears' star promises to be just as much of a problem for the defense as his illustrious predecessor. Hill looked like Hutson at his best yesterday as he twice faked Detroit defenders out of the way for the touchdowns that brought the Bears a 24-14 victory, their sixth in a row, and first place in the NFL's Western Conference.

WITH THREE games to go, the Bears (6-3) have a half-game lead over the Los Angeles Rams (5-3-1), who were held to a 17-17 tie by Baltimore. Hutson's old team, the Green Bay Packers (5-4), trail by a game after Tobin Rote passed for two touchdowns and ran 49 yards to set up a third in a 27-21 victory over San Francisco.

In the Eastern Conference, Cleveland bounced back from its upset defeat by Philadelphia a week ago to trouce Pittsburgh 41-14 and remain a game in front of Washington's surprising Redskins, 31-0 winners over the Chicago Cardinals. New York vaulted from last place to a tie for third with Pittsburgh by clipping the Philadelphia Eagles 31-7.

Unless the second place teams get some unexpected help, it looks very much like the Bears vs Browns in the pro championship playoff, scheduled for Monday, Dec. 26, or Sunday, Jan. 1, in the park of the Western Conference champion. Cleveland, incidentally, walloped the Bears in the club's only previous encounters, 41-21 in 1951 and 39-10 last year.

HILL DIDN'T go to the University of Alabama, as Hutson did. He prepped for the NFL at little Florence Teachers College, but he learned his lessons well.

As a rookie last year, he led the league in touchdown catches with an even dozen, 5 short of the league record of 17 set by Hutson (who else) in 1942.

The team standings:

Meteorite Falls

London, Nov. 21 (AP) — Soviet scientists reported today a 300-ton meteorite composed of the same elements as the earth fell recently in the Sikote Alin Mountains, just north of Vladivostok in the Far East. Reporting their finds, Moscow Radio said the meteorite broke into hundreds of splinters on reaching the earth, the largest weighing about three tons.

Injury Balks Canadiens in 1-1 Ranger Tie

(By The Associated Press)

An injury may do what none of the five other teams in the National Hockey League has been able to accomplish this season — stop the Montreal Canadiens from making a runaway of the pennant race.

Bernie (Boom Boom) Geoffrion, the league's leading scorer with 25 points on 11 goals and 14 assists, suffered a separation of the right shoulder as the Canadiens and New York Rangers played a 1-1 tie last night. He is expected to be out of action from three to five weeks.

Strangely enough, the other two games also ended in 1-1 ties. The Chicago Black Hawks and Detroit's Red Wings tangled in one of the deadlocks and the Boston Bruins and Toronto Maple Leafs in the other.

The Canadiens, holding their 8-point margin over the second place Rangers, were forced to come from behind to run their unbeaten string to 11 games.

Driver Killed

Orange, Conn., Nov. 21 (AP)—A driver was crushed to death, three trucks and four automobile were damaged and traffic on the busy Boston Post Road (U. S. 1), was tied up more than three hours today by two related accidents. William Albert Hall, 45, of Plainfield, N. J., was crushed to death in the cab of his truck, carrying a cargo of bricks.

Rose, Orange Bowl Berths Filled By Teams That Met 2 Years Ago

(By The Associated Press)

It's Michigan State-UCLA in the Rose Bowl and Oklahoma-Maryland in the Orange Bowl Jan. 2. And if you think you've heard that song before, you're right.

Those same four powers met in the same two New Year's Day extravaganzas in 1954.

If history is to repeat all the way, it'll be Michigan State 28, UCLA 20 and Oklahoma 7, Maryland 0. That's what it was in '54.

Once again, Michigan State and UCLA are once beaten. The Spartans lost only to Michigan (14-7) this season, while only Maryland upended UCLA (7-0). Maryland, the 1953 national champ, again has a 10-0 record, while Oklahoma, 9-0 with one game left and apparently heading for the national title, was once beaten and once tied going into the '54 Orange Bowl.

UCLA was expected to receive the official blessing of the Pacific Coast Conference today after a token poll of members. The Ulcans won their third straight PCC championship by thrashing Southern Cal 17-7 Saturday.

MICHIGAN STATE received its Rose Bowl credentials from the Big 10 Sunday, although getting the bid as a runnerup. Ohio State, barred from two consecutive Pasadena appearances, won the Big 10 title again by booting Michigan out of the picture 17-0 while Michigan State walloped non-league Marquette 33-0.

The only other "also-ran" to represent the Big Ten in the Rose Bowl was Northwestern, and the second place Wildcats beat California 20-14 in 1949.

Half of the Bowl berths now are filled, with Texas Christian gaining the Southwest Conference host spot in the Cotton Bowl by humiliating Rice 35-0. That leaves the Dallas bowl selectors still looking for another team.

THE SUGAR and Gator Bowl committees also are still on the prowl and they'll have their teams by week's end with Mississippi, Georgia Tech, Auburn, Navy and Pitt waiting to say yes.

To give the selectors a good show, Mississippi plays Mississippi State, Georgia Tech meets Georgia, Auburn takes on Alabama and Navy tangles with Army as college football takes one last fling this Saturday.

Pitt's record already is bound up for inspection with Saturday's 20-0 decision over Penn State capping a season that listed impressive victories over Duke and West Virginia. The West Virginians were erased from the bowl list last weekend by Syracuse 20-13.

The Southeastern conference champ generally fills one of the Sugar Bowl berths and Mississippi (8-1), Georgia Tech (7-1-1) and Auburn (7-1-1) are the contenders. Vanderbilt (7-2) also has a chance. Vandy plays Tennessee, knocked for a loop by Kentucky 23-0 over the weekend.

NAVY, which returned to the post-season business last January in the Sugar Bowl, likely will have a Cotton Bowl invitation in hand if it can beat Army. If the Middies fail, Pitt or one of the SEC teams may get it.

Pitt also qualifies for the Sugar Bowl, although the New Orleans promotors could do worse than match a SEC pair.

The Gator Bowl, set for Dec. 31, probably will have to wait until after the Cotton and Sugar bowls make their moves before getting replies to its bids.

Ashenfelter Cops Senior AAU 10,000 Meters

Buffalo, Nov. 21 (AP)—Horace Ashenfelter slopped his way across snow-covered Delaware Park here yesterday to set a new course record and win the National Senior AAU 10,000-meter cross-country run.

Ashenfelter completed the 6½ mile course in 31:39.1, breaking the record of 32:31 set by fellow FBI man Fred Wilt in 1953. Wilt finished in the number two slot yesterday, about 50 yards behind Ashenfelter. His time was 32:01.

ASHENFELTER, a former Olympic running star and graduate of Penn State, took the lead at the 4½ mile mark and was never again headed. It was the first time he'd won the race. His brother, Bill, who won it in 1949, finished 12th today.

Bob Kelly of the University of Chicago track team finished third in 32:19.

Team honors went to the New York Athletic Club, led by Ashenfelter and Wilt, with 28 points. Far behind in second place was the Chicago Track Club with 69.

Michigan, with 6,371,766 people, ranks seventh in U. S. population figures.

Two Injured Players Are on Doubtful List

Kingston High School will not be at full strength for the Thanksgiving Day game against Newburgh Free Academy, Coach Bill Burke said this morning.

The Maroons and the Goldbacks collide in their traditional duel Thursday morning, 11 o'clock, at Dietz Stadium.

The KHS-NFA game, and the Port Jervis-Middletown duel on the same day, conclude the scholastic football campaign.

There's no championship involved in either battle of DUSO teams. Poughkeepsie took the marbles by beating Kingston a week ago last Saturday.

BURKE SAID today that two regulars whom he had hoped would see full-time duty against Newburgh weren't ready.

Fullback Neil Keyser, hobbled most of the year with a leg injury, will play very little if any. Keyser reinjured himself during Thursday's practice to the extent that he wasn't able to suit up the following day.

Guard Alo Saluste, out of action since before the Middletown game, will play on defense. He is still recovering from a wrist fracture. It had been hoped that Saluste could go both ways, but Burke said that the 1954 All-DUSO selection hadn't regained his speed.

The Kingstonians, therefore, will go with the same offensive lineup that started against Poughkeepsie — Al Long and Marv Engle, ends; Gene Nagele and Lee Kias, tackles; Andy Lee and George Stephano, guards; Pete Blanschan, center; Dick Richards, quarterback; Ronnie Ashdown and either Jim Jackson or Bob Smith, halfbacks; and Larry Johnson, fullback.

ASHDOWN, who suffered a concussion when he collided with Poughkeepsie's monstrous Monty Stickles, is ready to play again. The little guy hasn't broken loose since the NYMA game, but with a dry field and some improved blocking, Ashdown could rip the game wide open.

Newburgh is reportedly in fine physical fettle. The Goldbacks will bank most of their victory hopes on the shoulders of halfback Charles "Zeke" McCurry.

Newburgh has a sizeable edge in the long series, winning 23 times. Kingston has triumphed on 14 occasions, with three games ending in deadlocks. Since Burke took over the Kingston coaching job in 1946, however, the Maroons have won 10, lost three and tied one against Newburgh.

Off Middletown's showing in the past two games, the Middle-Port duel should be a good one.

PORT JERVIS tripped Kingston by a single point, while the Middies suffered a 21-0 trouncing at the Maroons' hands. But the Middletown eleven gave Poughkeepsie a good battle and then overwhelmed Newburgh, a team which Port beat by a single touchdown.

Port will unleash a quintet of fine backs against the Middletown squad — Vince Pagano, Butch Ross, Dick Pencek and the speedy Malzahna, Clint and Jim.

Middletown is relying on its slender tailback, the sparkling Sherk Myers, and on its pass-snatching end, Ted Brown.

The Middies have a big margin in the series, which dates from 1910. Middetown has won 36, Port Jervis 19, with five ties.

KHS-NFA Tilt First to Have Kickoff at 11

G. Warren Kias, Kingston High School athletic director, emphasized today that the KHS-Newburgh game would begin at 11 o'clock Thursday morning.

This will be the first time that a Thanksgiving Day game at Kingston has been played in the morning.

Fans are asked to arrive at Dietz Stadium early to prevent congestion near kickoff time.

(By The Associated Press)

Cool Canadian air plunged temperatures as much as 22 degrees today in parts of the Dakotas and northern Minnesota to push thermometers near the zero mark. The frigid air plummeted yesterday's high of 25 at International Falls, Minn., to 3 above today. A similar 22-degree drop occurred at Grand Forks, N. D., as the mercury fell from 30 to 8 above. While the remainder of the country experienced little temperature change, readings advanced as much as 20 degrees in parts of the mid-Mississippi valley and upper Great Lakes regions in a 24-hour period. Readings in the 30s and 40s became common today.

Fire Misses Explosives

Montreal, Nov. 21 (AP)—A fire roared out of control through a three-story building near the center of Montreal today which houses the Lafleur Dynamite Co.—but firemen succeeded in removing all explosives. A few persons in the building also were evacuated. One report said the blaze — which occurred in the midmorning rush and during the first snow storm of the season—had been started by an explosion, but Fire Chief Raymond Pare said the cause is unknown.

Chest $38,000

weekend. Named as group leaders were Mrs. R. Soltys, Mrs. Parran Gates and Mrs. Harold Baltz in the town of Ulster; Mrs. Donald Swan in Port Ewen and Mrs. C. D. Morris in Hurley.

In the city, solicitation in the second and twelfth wards has been virtually completed by teams headed by Miss Carolyn Newkirk, Mrs. Morton Zucker, Mrs. Charles Forst and Mrs. Fred Port. Residential prospects in the first ward are being contacted by a team organized by Mrs. Rosalie Davis.

The Chest drive has already exceeded the amount raised last year, and an estimated $10,000 to $15,000 additional in pledges is expected to be turned in by tonight.

"We cannot claim success, yet, on that basis," John R. Warren, executive director, said. "Our member agencies need every penny of the goal if they are to maintain their essential services to the area in this time of expanding population. The $100,270 goal is not an inflated figure. It is a realistic goal based on budgets carefully prepared by the boards of directors of the eight member agencies, reviewed by the Chest's budget committee of representative business people, and adopted by the Chest's board of directors."

The member agencies are: Boys Club of Kingston, Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts, Jewish Community Center, Salvation Army, Volunteers of America, YMCA and YWCA.

"We know we haven't yet contacted everyone willing to contribute. Every dollar is needed; the only reason we haven't covered every section is because we have been unable to find enough volunteers to serve as chairmen to organize solicitations in every ward. We will be very happy to receive contributions by mail from anyone we've missed," Mr. Warren said.

Pledges totaling $62,365.60 were received in the Chest office as of the close of business on Friday. Division totals: Industry, $30,474.50; Advance Gift, $13,085; Commercial, $6,901; Professional and health, $6,227; Clubs and organizations, $2,001; Government and education, $2,170; Residential, $1,499.10; Suburban, $8.

many people considered it a miracle."

OGGI SAID that on Dec. 2, 1954, when the ailing Pope's illness from a gastric disturbance reached a climax, the Pontiff began reciting the prayer "Ani ma Christi (Soul of Christ)."

When he came to the invocation "in horae mortis meaa, voca me (in the hour of my death, call me)," the Pope saw "the sweet person of Jesus Christ at his bedside," said the magazine.

"In that moment," said the magazine, "the Holy Father believed that the teacher came to call him to Himself, and, serenely answering to the call, he continued the prayer: 'Jube me venire ad te (order me to come to you.')) Jesus, however, did not come to take him, but to console him and give him the certainty that his hour had not yet come."

THE ANNOUNCEMENT OF the Pope's vision recalled the announcement three years ago by Federico Cardinal Tedeschini, archpriest of St. Peter's Basilica, that Pope Pius saw a vision of the Virgin Mary in October, 1951.

Cardinal Tedeschini told a throng commemorating the appearance of the Virgin years before at the Portuguese shrine of Fatima that the Pope had witnessed the same vision while walking in the Vatican gardens.

Later Vatican sources said privately that the Pope had not seen a vision of the Virgin but rather the same unusual rays of the sun which were reported to have accompanied the vision of the Virgin to the Little Shepherd Children of Fatima.

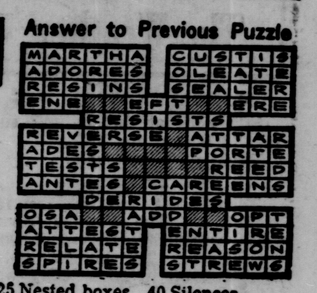

The Vatican has never explained officially the statement by Cardinal Tedeschini nor has it ever made the private explanation given to newsmen either official or public.

Firms Have

only to those eligible for state unemployment compensation, whereas the NAM plan has nothing to do with state payments.

The NAM said its individual fund plan having no connection with state payments means that "if a laid-off employe uses his plan to stay out of work longer than is necessary, he will be using money he otherwise could keep for himself."

IF AN EMPLOYE retires or leaves the company, he receives the amount of money in his fund. If he dies, his heirs inherit it.

Companies now on plans similar to the NAM recommendation are the Pittsburgh Plate Glass and Libby-Owens-Ford Companies. Their contracts with the CIO United Glass and Ceramic Workers call for a company contribution of five cents an hour for each employe, as does the Ford plan.

Report Graham

Ward said. "But, he wasn't interested."

Joseph T. Grande, an employe of the Ryall Electric Supply Co., in Denver, has said he sold a timing device to Graham Oct. 26.

The report of the dynamite purchase was by Lyman Brown, co-owner of the Brown Bros. Shopping Center in Kremmling.

Brown said he is "almost certain" the man who purchased the dynamite was Graham. Brown said he would know the man again and thought he could make a positive identification when he saw the purchaser.

"We're not yet positive," the FBI said, "that Graham purchased the dynamite in Kremmling, but we are checking it closely."

Cold in Dakotas

(By The Associated Press)

Cool Canadian air plunged temperatures as much as 22 degrees today in parts of the Dakotas and northern Minnesota to push thermometers near the zero mark. The frigid air plummeted yesterday's high of 25 at International Falls, Minn., to 3 above today. A similar 22-degree drop occurred at Grand Forks, N. D., as the mercury fell from 30 to 8 above. While the remainder of the country experienced little temperature change, readings advanced as much as 20 degrees in parts of the mid-Mississippi valley and upper Great Lakes regions in a 24-hour period. Readings in the 30s and 40s became common today.

Fire Misses Explosives

Montreal, Nov. 21 (AP)—A fire roared out of control through a three-story building near the center of Montreal today which houses the Lafleur Dynamite Co. —but firemen succeeded in removing all explosives. A few persons in the building also were evacuated. One report said the blaze — which occurred in the midmorning rush and during the first snow storm of the season—had been started by an explosion, but Fire Chief Raymond Pare said the cause is unknown.

Chest $38,000

weekend. Named as group leaders were Mrs. R. Soltys, Mrs. Parran Gates and Mrs. Harold Baltz in the town of Ulster; Mrs. Donald Swan in Port Ewen and Mrs. C. D. Morris in Hurley.

In the city, solicitation in the second and twelfth wards has been virtually completed by teams headed by Miss Carolyn Newkirk, Mrs. Morton Zucker, Mrs. Charles Forst and Mrs. Fred Port. Residential prospects in the first ward are being contacted by a team organized by Mrs. Rosalie Davis.

The Chest drive has already exceeded the amount raised last year, and an estimated $10,000 to $15,000 additional in pledges is expected to be turned in by tonight.

"We cannot claim success, yet, on that basis," John R. Warren, executive director, said. "Our member agencies need every penny of the goal if they are to maintain their essential services to the area in this time of expanding population. The $100,270 goal is not an inflated figure. It is a realistic goal based on budgets carefully prepared by the boards of directors of the eight member agencies, reviewed by the Chest's budget committee of representative business people, and adopted by the Chest's board of directors."

The member agencies are: Boys Club of Kingston, Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts, Jewish Community Center, Salvation Army, Volunteers of America, YMCA and YWCA.

"We know we haven't yet contacted everyone willing to contribute. Every dollar is needed; the only reason we haven't covered every section is because we have been unable to find enough volunteers to serve as chairmen to organize solicitations in every ward. We will be very happy to receive contributions by mail from anyone we've missed," Mr. Warren said.

Pledges totaling $62,365.60 were received in the Chest office as of the close of business on Friday. Division totals: Industry, $30,474.50; Advance Gift, $13,085; Commercial, $6,901; Professional and health, $6,227; Clubs and organizations, $2,001; Government and education, $2,170; Residential, $1,499.10; Suburban, $8.

many people considered it a miracle."

OGGI SAID that on Dec. 2, 1954, when the ailing Pope's illness from a gastric disturbance reached a climax, the Pontiff began reciting the prayer "Ani ma Christi (Soul of Christ)."

When he came to the invocation "in horae mortis meaa, voca me (in the hour of my death, call me)," the Pope saw "the sweet person of Jesus Christ at his bedside," said the magazine.

"In that moment," said the magazine, "the Holy Father believed that the teacher came to call him to Himself, and, serenely answering to the call, he continued the prayer: 'Jube me venire ad te (order me to come to you.')) Jesus, however, did not come to take him, but to console him and give him the certainty that his hour had not yet come."

THE ANNOUNCEMENT OF the Pope's vision recalled the announcement three years ago by Federico Cardinal Tedeschini, archpriest of St. Peter's Basilica, that Pope Pius saw a vision of the Virgin Mary in October, 1951.

Cardinal Tedeschini told a throng commemorating the appearance of the Virgin years before at the Portuguese shrine of Fatima that the Pope had witnessed the same vision while walking in the Vatican gardens.

Later Vatican sources said privately that the Pope had not seen a vision of the Virgin but rather the same unusual rays of the sun which were reported to have accompanied the vision of the Virgin to the Little Shepherd Children of Fatima.

The Vatican has never explained officially the statement by Cardinal Tedeschini nor has it ever made the private explanation given to newsmen either official or public.

only to those eligible for state unemployment compensation, whereas the NAM plan has nothing to do with state payments.

The NAM said its individual fund plan having no connection with state payments means that "if a laid-off employe uses his plan to stay out of work longer than is necessary, he will be using money he otherwise could keep for himself."

IF AN EMPLOYE retires or leaves the company, he receives the amount of money in his fund. If he dies, his heirs inherit it.

Companies now on plans similar to the NAM recommendation are the Pittsburgh Plate Glass and Libby-Owens-Ford Companies. Their contracts with the CIO United Glass and Ceramic Workers call for a company contribution of five cents an hour for each employe, as does the Ford plan.

Report Graham

Ward said. "But, he wasn't interested."

Joseph T. Grande, an employe of the Ryall Electric Supply Co., in Denver, has said he sold a timing device to Graham Oct. 26.

The report of the dynamite purchase was by Lyman Brown, co-owner of the Brown Bros. Shopping Center in Kremmling.

Brown said he is "almost certain" the man who purchased the dynamite was Graham. Brown said he would know the man again and thought he could make a positive identification when he saw the purchaser.

"We're not yet positive," the FBI said, "that Graham purchased the dynamite in Kremmling, but we are checking it closely."

Fined for Speeding

Hamilton Darling, 20, of 228 Clifton avenue, was arrested yesterday by Officer Floyd Krom on West Union street on a charge of speeding. He was fined $15 in city court today.

Questioned in Death

Santa Monica, Calif., Nov. 21 (AP)—Police today questioned an aircraft worker in connection with the death of a 21-year-old Indian girl who tumbled from an eighth-floor hotel window. Detective William Garn said Dolores Birdtail, who lived at an unidentified Indian reservation in Montana, was killed when she fell from a hotel room at 1415 Ocean avenue.

Chiang Comments

Taipei, Formosa, Nov. 21 (AP)—President Chiang Kaishek said today the international situation is "outwardly calm but inwardly tense." In a statement marking Nationalist China's Air Defense Day, Chiang said Red China still is determined to carry out aggressive plans and that the danger of Communist air attacks still exists.

Nova Scotia Has Worst Blizzard Since 1874 Winter

Halifax, N. S., Nov. 21 (AP)—Nova Scotia's worst November blizzard since 1874 moved on Newfoundland today, leaving behind a wide swath of twisted wires, toppled poles and plugged roads.

Up to 12 inches of snow, powered by 50-mile-an-hour winds, knocked out nearly all communications in the provinces.

ICE-LADEN poles crashed to the ground in the first heavy blow of winter. An express train was forced to cancel a run and during most of the day provincial buses stopped operating. Those that did run were far behind schedule.

All airline flights were grounded and five ocean-going ships waited out the storm at the entrance to Halifax harbor.

In Cape Breton, all communications were knocked out. Except for Sydney and Glace Bay, all towns on the island were without electricity Sunday night.

HNNDREDS of cars were stalled as snowplows battled to clear highways. All provincial services of Canadian Pacific telegraphs, were thrown out of operation during the day and night.

Wire communications between Cape Breton and mainland Nova Scotia, and telegraph and telephone services between Nova Scotia and Newfoundland all were out.

REPORTS filtering into Halifax late Sunday indicated the storm was general over most areas of the province.

Because of communication difficulties there was no immediate estimate of the storm damage. Traffic tieups and minor accidents were reported in most towns, but none was believed serious. No injuries were reported.

Smallest moth in the world seems to be the golden pigmy of Great Britain, which has a wingspread of hardly one quarter inch.

Lost in 'Seaquake'

Auckland, New Zealand, Nov. 21 (AP)—Marine inspectors today completed a preliminary survey of the 70-ton "ghost ship" Joyita and reported the disappearance of her 25 passengers and crew could be explained in only one way—a "seaquake." The Joyita, now at Suva, Fiji Islands, was found drifting and deserted in the South Pacific three weeks ago. She had sailed from Samoa on a two-day voyage to the Tokelau Islands on Oct. 3. A big air-sea search uncovered no trace of the missing passengers and crew. The Fiji government ruled out piracy.

A Soviet First

Moscow, Nov. 21 (AP)—For the first time in history, Soviet television presented last night a full-length English play in the English language. It was Shakespear's "Romeo and Juliet."

Questioned in Death

Santa Monica, Calif., Nov. 21 (AP)—Police today questioned an aircraft worker in connection with the death of a 21-year-old Indian girl who tumbled from an eighth-floor hotel window. Detective William Garn said Dolores Birdtail, who lived at an unidentified Indian reservation in Montana, was killed when she fell from a hotel room at 1415 Ocean avenue.

Chiang Comments

Taipei, Formosa, Nov. 21 (AP)—President Chiang Kaishek said today the international situation is "outwardly calm but inwardly tense." In a statement marking Nationalist China's Air Defense Day, Chiang said Red China still is determined to carry out aggressive plans and that the danger of Communist air attacks still exists.

Nova Scotia Has Worst Blizzard Since 1874 Winter

Halifax, N. S., Nov. 21 (AP)—Nova Scotia's worst November blizzard since 1874 moved on Newfoundland today, leaving behind a wide swath of twisted wires, toppled poles and plugged roads.

Up to 12 inches of snow, powered by 50-mile-an-hour winds, knocked out nearly all communications in the provinces.

ICE-LADEN poles crashed to the ground in the first heavy blow of winter. An express train was forced to cancel a run and during most of the day provincial buses stopped operating. Those that did run were far behind schedule.

All airline flights were grounded and five ocean-going ships waited out the storm at the entrance to Halifax harbor.

In Cape Breton, all communications were knocked out. Except for Sydney and Glace Bay, all towns on the island were without electricity Sunday night.

HNNDREDS of cars were stalled as snowplows battled to clear highways. All provincial services of Canadian Pacific telegraphs, were thrown out of operation during the day and night.

Wire communications between Cape Breton and mainland Nova Scotia, and telegraph and telephone services between Nova Scotia and Newfoundland all were out.

REPORTS filtering into Halifax late Sunday indicated the storm was general over most areas of the province.

Because of communication difficulties there was no immediate estimate of the storm damage. Traffic tieups and minor accidents were reported in most towns, but none was believed serious. No injuries were reported.

Smallest moth in the world seems to be the golden pigmy of Great Britain, which has a wingspread of hardly one quarter inch.

Lost in 'Seaquake'

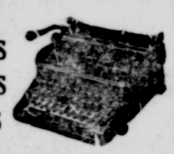

Auckland, New Zealand, Nov. 21 (AP)—Marine inspectors today completed a preliminary survey of the 70-ton "ghost ship" Joyita and reported the disappearance of her 25 passengers and crew could be explained in only one way—a "seaquake." The Joyita, now at Suva, Fiji Islands, was found drifting and deserted in the South Pacific three weeks ago. She had sailed from Samoa on a two-day voyage to the Tokelau Islands on Oct. 3. A big air-sea search uncovered no trace of the missing passengers and crew. The Fiji government ruled out piracy.

A Soviet First

Moscow, Nov. 21 (AP)—For the first time in history, Soviet television presented last night a full-length English play in the English language. It was Shakespear's "Romeo and Juliet."
